Serum Sought for Paralysis
BERKELEY, Oct. 6. (AP)—The University of California has issued a call to doctors of the state for a serum to combat infantile paralysis, made from the blood of patients who suffered from the disease not longer than three years ago. The serum is said to be able to decrease the attack of paralysis or to prevent it. The foundation is attempting to create a reserve stock to use against another epidemic of the disease such as swept the state a year ago.

EXPRESS LINE FLYERS BATTLE WITH STORM
DENVER, Oct. 6. (AP)—The Continental Airway express plane, piloted by J. M. Patterson, and Donald Howard, vice-president of the company, landed at Amarillo, Tex., after a flight of 200 miles, and later downed at Trinidad, Colo., by a storm. The plane, carrying 20 passengers and mail, was blown off its course by a heavy fog and later thrown 200 miles from its destination. The plane was damaged and the passengers were rescued. The flight was the maiden trip of the Denver Express Company and marked the opening of daily express plane service between this city and New Orleans.

Shoes should FIT THE FEET in every position
Growing feet need exercise. It is important for a child's shoe to measure with both the shape and action of the foot. Then the growing foot can exercise and build the strength needed to carry the increasing weight of the body. A correctly fitting child's shoe is one that adapts itself to every changing attitude of the foot, as a glove does to the hand.
Boys and girls can be properly fitted in Cantilever Shoes. These shoes are shaped just like a child's foot, with room for the toes and a sole that fits in the action of the foot. They are made from the finest materials and are built strong, well-shaped feet. Cantilever shoes are accurate and comfortable.

BOOTLEG KING SLAYS SPOUSE
George Remus Shoots Wife on Cincinnati Street
Tragedy Due to Divorce Suit on Eve of Hearing
Killer Former Lawyer and Atlanta ex-Convict

CINCINNATI, Oct. 6. (AP)—George Remus, once "the king of bootleggers," tonight was held in a jail without bond on a first-degree murder charge following the shooting of his wife, Imogene, in Eden Park.
A divorce suit filed a few days before Remus was released from the Atlanta penitentiary in 1925, was heard today after it had been delayed by repeated continuances.
This sudden, tragic and unexpected termination by Remus of action in the divorce suit was accompanied by another unexpected move by the former asserted bootleg king tonight when he announced he will act as his own attorney when brought to trial on the first-degree murder charge.
Remus made the announcement at police headquarters tonight, where he received newspaper reporters following an examination as to his sanity. He formerly practiced law in Chicago.

The one-time acknowledged ruler of bootleggers preferred to stand trial acting as his own counsel rather than accept services of nationally known criminal lawyers. Remus said he received a number of telegrams today from such lawyers volunteering their services.
He will be taken to Police Court tomorrow to answer the murder charge.
To forestall an insanity plea, County Prosecutor T. J. O'Connell, court clerk, interviewed Remus and from his own conclusions regarding whether Remus was insane at the time of the killing, he will decide whether to accept the insanity plea.

STORY OF KILLING
An automobile with Remus in it swung out from the side of Victory Parkway early today to follow a taxicab in which Mrs. Remus and her adopted daughter Ruth, 19 years of age, were riding to court.
"I'm afraid," Mrs. Remus told her daughter, "there was a chase through heavy traffic."
Through the center of traffic sped the closed car.
It turned in front of the taxi forcing the driver to stop.
Mrs. Remus jumped from the taxi and started to run. Remus leaped from the car, seized her by the wrist and drew her close to him and fired a bullet into her abdomen. He then returned to his car.
A motorist answered Mrs. Remus's call for help, and took the dying woman and her daughter to a hospital. Physicians operated immediately but she died two hours later.
Remus went to the police station and surrendered.
He was bitter. He spoke of a strained relationship between Mrs. Remus and Frank L. Dodge, Jr., of Cleveland, O., a former Federal prohibition agent, who was instrumental in his conviction and whom he named as co-respondent in a cross bill filed to his wife's divorce suit.
She had charged Remus with cruelty.
"It's the penalty one pays for being contrary to the debt one owes to society," he said.
"They think I am insane."
JUSTIFIES BLOODY ACT
"Well, I'm not half as crazy as some of those who think I am. I am entirely responsible for the act I committed. Of course, every act of this sort is committed under great mental stress and in the precise moment, perhaps, the mind is somewhat deranged, but complete sanity returns immediately after."
"I shall make no defense of insanity. I feel that I was justified in doing what I did. I owed this to society. My fate will be in the hands of twelve men and I will abide by their decision."
A reporter told Remus that "no doubt you had this planned. It seems to me that you also would have planned your getaway."
"Your youth excuses you for the question you have asked," replied Remus. "When you have become more matured and have attained a ripe age you, too, under similar circumstances, would reason differently. Why should I go about the country as a fugitive from justice—a man with a price on his head? If you have a clear conscience, you have nothing to fear and consequently why should I run away? A man who feels that he has performed a duty to society and that he has committed no moral wrong would not run away from the consequences of his act, but would do just as I have done, give himself up."

Remus stated that he had only $84 when he left the Atlanta prison after serving the term imposed upon him in Federal Court for violating the prohibition law, and that his wife had left him penniless. This apparently did not inflame him so much as his wife's asserted association with "an officer of the government, sworn to uphold the law, who associated with him seeking by every means to get me."

Asked if he had attempted to effect a reconciliation with his wife, Remus replied: "How could I? No sane man could."

SKELETON OF PAST
Remus went to Eden Park with defective and re-enacted the shooting. The revolver which was not found, he said he threw into the drive.
George Elmer surrendered and said he was the driver of the car. He said he had no previous knowledge of Remus's intentions.
Mrs. Remus was formerly Mrs. Imogene Holmes, an Evanston (Ill.) divorcee. Her name became linked with Remus when he was practicing law in Chicago. The newspapers gave publicity to a clash between Mrs. Holmes and a plumber in her apartment. Remus was there at the time, and became involved in the story. A divorce followed and Remus married Mrs. Holmes, July 21, 1920, less than a year later.

They came to Cincinnati the next year, and with the purchase by Remus of distilleries and warehouses in Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio for his $1,000,000 bootlegging business, began a series of colorful adventures for him that were climaxed dramatically in the shooting of his wife.
In 1924 he lost a two-year court battle and began serving a two-year sentence in the Atlanta prison. On

SKIRT CENSORSHIP. ON TRIAL
Action Brought Against Park Policeman When He Orders Husband to Pull Down Wife's Dress in Attempt to Test Authority

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—The right of a Washington policeman to censor the length of a woman's skirt was to be tested today in an investigation before the District of Columbia Park authorities. Col. Ulysses S. Grant III, director of public buildings and public parks, was designated to preside over the investigation.
An accusation against Park Policeman Lawler has been brought by Mr. and Mrs. Rose W. Keller of Washington. The couple charging the officer with ordering Mrs. Keller to "pull down her dress," while she was sitting on a park bench.
Keller at first was ordered by the officer to pull down her wife's skirt and refused, directing Lawler to arrest her if she had infringed the law. Mrs. Keller likewise refused to obey. Keller said he wanted the officer either to apologize to his wife or place charges against her in the test inquiry.

Ruth Elder Plane in Ground Crash
COURTNEY FIELD (N. Y.) Oct. 6. (AP)—A Waco sport plane used by Miss Ruth Elder, Florida aviator, and trans-Atlantic flight aspirant, suffered damage to its wings today when it was in a ground collision with a Curtiss "Jenny" operated by a student aviator. No one was injured.
Miss Elder had just completed a flight in the Waco and was preparing to ascend in her Sunbeam plane, the American Girl, with her co-pilot, Capt. George Hildeman, on a flight when the Curtiss plane struck the trim line Waco. The upper and lower wings of the Waco were crushed. Capt. Hildeman announced that unfavorable weather over the Atlantic would make a take-off by himself and Miss Elder impossible for at least two days.

Ex-Boxer Held in Auto Injury
HARRISONBURG (Va.) Oct. 6. (AP)—"Tiger" Flowers, Atlanta negro and former middleweight boxing champion, was arrested here late today when his automobile ran over and injured Jack Logan, 4-year-old son of John Logan of Harrisonburg. The boy's legs were crushed and he suffered internal injuries.
Flowers, accompanied by two negro women, was en route from Atlanta to New York. He said the boy ran from behind a parked automobile and that he did not see him until the car was upon him. Flowers' bail was fixed at $5000.

Average Length of Life Shows Half-Year Drop
NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—The average length of man's life expectancy has decreased half a year since 1924, statistics compiled by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company showed today.
From 1911 to 1924 insurance mortality tables indicated a gradual increase in life expectancy amounting from 46.83 years in 1911 to 55.63 years in 1924. During the next two years, however, the report showed a decline with 55.06 years being the 1926 average.
This decline was taken to show, the report stated, that science has gone as far as it can in lengthening human life, and now, for some unknown reason, length of life was diminishing.

Hilles Favors Naming Hughes
NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—Convinced that it is "hopeless" to induce President Coolidge to reconsider his disclaimer that he does not choose to run for President next year, Charles D. Hilles, vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee, returned from Washington today and announced that he favors the nomination of Charles E. Hughes.
"My belief is that Charles Evans Hughes will have the cordial support of a great majority of the New York delegates to the national convention for the Presidential nomination," Hilles said. "I am more than ever convinced that President Coolidge has eliminated himself."

Move Accredited to Burden of Export Tax
Office Force Retained to Represent Holdings
BEAUMONT (Tex.) Oct. 6. (AP)—Withdrawal of all producing and refining equipment now standing in storage at Tampico, Mex., has been ordered by the Standard Oil Company of New York. It was learned at the office of the Magnolia Petroleum Company here, from E. W. Gross, purchasing agent and official in charge of this undertaking.
Mr. Gross announced that equipment to be removed is the property of the New England Fuel Company and the Continental Mexican Petroleum Company, both subsidiaries of Standard Oil. Both companies had practically suspended operation for some months.
The move was credited generally to the burden placed on petroleum by the southern republic's export tax, which, when added to transportation costs, makes it difficult to deal profitably with the Tampico product. The present revolution had nothing to do with the order, Mr. Gross declared.
All equipment will be brought to Beaumont. Its value is reported to be in excess of $250,000. This, however, is no indication of the total value of Standard Mexican holdings, as much material already has been withdrawn and huge sums remain invested in oil lands, he declared.
An office force will be left in Tampico to handle matters relating to these holdings and other business that may arise with Mexican land laws, he added.

Figures Compared in View of Tariff Issue

Trade With France Swings in Her Favor

Canada Best Customer of United States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (Exclusive)—In view of the tariff controversy with France the evidences that are accumulating of a general attack on the American tariff system by European and other countries and the readiness with which leading Democratic politicians are joining in the denunciation of that system, the statistics made public today by the Department of Commerce of export and import trade for August and for the first eight months of this year have a peculiar interest.

They show that in the eight months' total exports from the United States gained 5 per cent over the corresponding period of last year, while imports declined 6 per cent.

In the face of this, however, imports from France increased 13 per cent while exports to France declined 50 per cent.

In the same eight months Canada replaced the United Kingdom as the country's best customer, wresting from the old country the first place in the list of goods sold to the United States.

EXPORTS INCREASE

During that period exports from the United States showed an increase to all the six grand divisions of the world, the largest proportionate increase being to North America, while imports from these six grand divisions all showed a falling off.

For the single month of August, however, exports only to North America and South America continued to show an increase, exports to Europe, Asia, Oceania and Africa all showing a loss, pretty evenly distributed. The implication of the figures is that the United States is expanding its foreign trade more with its nearer neighbors than with those overseas.

Here are the country's nine best national customers for the eight months' period in their order, with the value of their purchases:

Canada, $544,008,208, as against $485,854,666 for the same months of 1926.

United Kingdom, $525,440,818, against $495,618,018.

Germany, $294,881,214, against $279,949,943.

Japan, $185,187,300, an increase of more than $5,000,000.

France, $138,745,535, a decrease of more than $23,000,000.

CROWD HOLDS BREATH WHILE WOMAN DANGLES OVER STREET

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—Horror halted passers-by in a Bronx street today, when the screams of a woman leaning from a fifth-floor apartment window, holding another suspended over the street by her heels, drew their eyes.

The frail woman shrieked frantically for help, in a voice weakly ringing as the minutes slipped by. The passers-by soon grew to a crowd of 100 helpless persons, riveted by fear. Then a blue-coated fireman sauntered around the corner, took one look, and dashed into the apartment house, appearing at a fourth-floor window, he was seen to reach out and grasp the woman by the arms.

Fireman Andrew McManus hauled in Gussie Pomeroy, 42 years of age, recently returned from a sanitarium, and called an ambulance for her sister Pearl, who had caught her heels as she tried to dive from the window.

advance notice that the Treasury was to take the course it did. Some attention was given also to the department to a statement by Assistant Secretary Lowman of the Treasury that American tariff policy is one of reciprocity and that American duties on goods from up or down as foreign duties go up or down. It was said emphatically that the American policy is one of equal treatment for all countries and that only the President or the Secretary of State can announce foreign policy.

The Lowman statement apparently referred, however, only to the specific tariff schedules under which the increases in duties on French goods were made, the law requiring raising or lowering of duties on certain articles when similar action is taken by other countries. It was in that connection that yesterday's Treasury order also provided for a lowering of duties on certain German commodities.

STATE DEPARTMENT GOES AHEAD WITH NOTE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—A little disturbed by the Treasury's action yesterday in raising certain duties on French imports to correspond with that country's new rates on American products, the State Department went forward today with preparations of its note to France seeking a basis for negotiations of a most favored nation commercial treaty.

The department accepted and even affirmed the Treasury's explanation that its action was routine demand for law, but it was not certain whether the fact of the increased rates, with the appearance of retaliation, would embarrass the diplomatic negotiations. Those drafting the note also considered also whether it should make mention of the newest and unexpected development.

The assumption was that should France inquire into the newly raised tariffs the Treasury's explanation would be repeated with the added assurance that its action has no bearing on the general tariff discussion.

France's new rates became effective September 6, but the Treasury explained today that it had not delayed compliance with the tariff law which requires similar changes in American duties because of the pending diplomatic negotiations. The State Department's chief reaction to the affair is surprise that it had no

FALL OF PEKING HELD IMMINENT

Shansi Army Advances on Capital by Two Routes

Marshal Chang Rushing Up Artillery and Cavalry

Feng Making Progress in Shantung Province

(Copyright, 1927, by the Chicago Tribune)

SHANGHAI, Oct. 6. (Exclusive)—Radio reports from foreign sources in Peking received yesterday by night by the British military and naval headquarters forecast the early capture of the city by the Shansi provincial forces, who are advancing on the northern capital by two routes, one from the north via Kailashan, and the other from the south via Pao-tungfu.

Owing to the censorship in Peking only the most brief coded messages are permitted to reach Shanghai regarding the northern military situation, which is interpreted here as likely to result in early evacuation by Marshal Chang Tso-Lin.

CHANG RESUES ARTILLERY

Local Chinese view the Peking battle apathetically, believing that the war will be of long duration, possibly lasting through the fall and winter, but local Nationalist officials express confidence that it will be over within a month, with Marshal Chang forced back into Manchuria.

Marshal Chang is rushing up heavy artillery and cavalry, but his position also is menaced by the other Shansi army advancing on Peking from the south, which is nearing the town of Pao-tungfu, less than 100 miles from Peking.

Meantime the Christian general, Feng Yu-Hsiang, ruler of Honan Province, is reported to be making rapid progress into Western Shantung Province to cut off Marshal Chang's allies, Gen. Chang Chang and Marshal Sun Chuan-fang.

PEKING GATES LOCKED

Japanese radio reports from Peking tonight state that considerable excitement prevails there. The city gates are locked and manned by heavy detachments of Peking troops while foreign forces are manning the walls of the legation quarter. The situation of the Peking leaders are evaluating to Mukden.

Shansi forces occupied Kaigai Tuesday and placed the city with revolution and demanding the evacuation of Marshal Chang, who was branded as a tool of the foreign imperialists.

HUSBAND MADE GOLF WIDOWER

His Children Orphans, Says Broker Suing Wife for Divorce

CHICAGO, Oct. 6. (AP)—Golf has made a widower of him and orphan of his children, Walter J. Stein, investment broker, declares in a divorce action against Mrs. Ruth Stein.

In asking the custody of two sons, Stein charges they were left in the care of a maid for three days while Mrs. Stein participated in the Women's Western Golf Association tournament.

Complete telegraphic censorship has suppressed all press matter from 6 p.m. Monday. The correspondents protested to the Foreign Office this morning. In view of any sensational report likely to cause elsewhere regarding the safety of Peking, this summary of the military situation is presented.

Hostilities between the Peking government and the Shansi provincial government, aided by elements favorable to the Christian general, Feng Yu-Hsiang, began September 30 on the Shansi border, 140 miles west of the Peking Railway. Owing to the lack of cavalry movement, the Peking troops have been unable to follow up the advance of the Shansi army.

The Peking government is massing troops for the main defensive on a line immediately outside the Great Wall, with the center on the railway at Hsueh-shan, about fifty miles from Peking, while the mountains to the east of this point are being held by the Peking army.

A delaying action is being fought west of this point. The new line projects three passes through the mountains to the north of Chengting, ten miles south of Peking, probably in order to bring the Peking army to grounds better suited for Peking's purposes.

Train service to Tien-tsin is normal.

STATE INSTITUTIONS TO GROW MORE CROPS

DIRECTOR PLANS TO INTENSIFY AND DIVERSIFY PRODUCTS RAISED BY INMATES

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 6. (AP)—Planning to intensify and diversify the agricultural activities at the various State institutions in the hope that most of the fruits and vegetables consumed by the inmates can be produced on State soil, Earl E. Jensen, director of institutions, is preparing to call on the Department of Agriculture for scientific assistance to accomplish this purpose.

The State at the seven hospitals, one feeble-minded home and three corrective schools, has a total of 5261 acres of land actually under cultivation, and much more that can be cultivated with irrigation if a proper system is worked out.

At present much produce is grown on the land by the State's charges, but Jensen believes more can be produced if correct methods are followed, and the wants of the other institutions supplied. He desires the cooperation of the Agricultural Department to determine whether more of one crop should be cultivated in preference to some other produce now being raised.

If this system can be worked out, and Jensen has no doubt but that it can, over a period of years, he foresees a great saving to the State in the maintenance of its charges.

MITTELSTAEDT OFF FOR CAPITAL TODAY

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 6. (AP)—Adj.-Gen. R. E. Mittelstaedt, commander of the California National Guard, leaves tomorrow for Washington with the plans for the San Luis Obispo guard camp, which have been recently approved by Maj.-Gen. John I. Hines, commander of the Ninth Corps Area. The government has made available approximately $400,000 for a three-year program at the camp, and Gen. Mittelstaedt will ask about $120,000 for the first year's building activities.

TORIES FAVOR FLAPPER VOTE

English Conservatives Plan Radical Program

Stronger House of Lords One of Proposals

Caucus Also Declares for Agricultural Credits

(Copyright, 1927, by the Chicago Tribune)

LONDON, Oct. 6. (Exclusive)—Flappers are to have votes, the House of Lords is to be strengthened and the farmers are to get a tax on imported barley and possibly a reduction in the tax on beer and whisky, enabling more barley to be used, and possibly an agricultural credit system.

These are the net results of the Conservative party conference today at Cardiff, attended by 2500 delegates, of which 1500 were women.

The discipline of the party was shown in the absence of discussion. Every debate was cut short and the government plans railroad in the most approved machine fashion.

The only voice of influence raised against the resolution for increasing the power of the House of Lords was that of Lord Londonderry, large mine owner industrialist and in touch with the opinion of the country. He warned that any suggestion that the party was trying to interfere by a stronger second chamber or in any other way with the expressed wish of the people at the polls was bound to rouse a storm of indignation.

RESOLUTION PASSES

Lord Selbourne, one of the leaders of the "die-hards" did not hesitate to say that what was needed was some barrier against the Socialists if the Labor party should obtain a majority. This he hoped to see established in a reformed House of Lords.

The resolution in favor of a reform was carried almost unanimously. Subsequently the same course was followed with the resolution favoring votes for all women of 21 years of age instead of 30, as now.

Lord Selbourne opposed this on the ground that flappers might vote for labor, but having given him a bullet with a reformed House of Lords the party decided to take a chance on the flappers and passed the resolution practically unanimously.

Walter Guinness, undersecretary of agriculture in the present government, warned the party that unless it did something for the farmers it would have a bad time in the next election. "The something" took the form of a resolution advocating a tax on barley, cheaper beer, and agricultural credits.

LABOR PARTY DISTURBED

The Russian boys disturbed the Labor party meeting at Blackpool today. C. T. Cramp, the railway men's delegate, was advocating a resolution in favor of general international arbitration and a renewal of political relations with Russia when one Red introduced an amendment calling for a labor deputation to study conditions in Russia.

"There are far too many deputations in Russia already," Mr. Cramp exploded. "There are far too many reports, all of which tell nothing. Let us consider the question of business merits, not sentimentalities."

Mr. Cramp also attacked another amendment calling for a general strike in event of war with Russia. "That is some of our business," the speaker said. "If anyone is to call a general strike it is the trade union congress which will have the job of getting the men back to work again."

Mr. Cramp was supported by J. H. Thomas, also a railway man, and Colonial Secretary in the last government.

WANTS HUMBLED ENDED

"Let us cease talking humbug," said Mr. Thomas. "If we believe that only strikes are effective and we cannot get what we want by legislation, let us bury the Labor party right here and now. Let us drop all this talk about a general strike for people who want others to fire the bullet but have nothing to lose themselves. Let us tell Russia that the people who are talking about a general strike cannot deliver the goods."

Former Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald also paid his respects to Russia, saying that he was tired of hearing the war-out doctrine (Communism) which had grown very long and white-haired.

"I say to your Russian colleagues: 'Abandon your imperialist ideas. Imperialism is not only an attribute of Tories, but also of revolution,'" Mr. MacDonald said.

The amendment was defeated.

DATA COMPLETE ON RESEARCH IN ROCKIES

SMITHSONIAN EXPERTS WILL PREPARE WALKOFF WORK FOR PUBLICATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (Exclusive)—The Smithsonian motor-truck expedition to the Canadian Rockies has returned to Washington with data which will permit the editing for publication of the last work done by Dr. Charles D. Walcott, late secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, on the stratigraphy of the Rockies.

Dr. Charles E. Resser and Dr. S. B. Basler commanded the expedition. Its purpose was to check up the order in which the rocks of the regions to which Dr. Walcott devoted his attention were laid down and their correlation from one mountain range to another. The area worked by Dr. Walcott is bounded roughly by the Columbia Valley, Bow Valley and Kicking Horse Valley. With the information obtained this summer, Dr. Resser expects to complete for early publication Dr. Walcott's general account of all his work in the Canadian Rockies.

As this expedition visited all the Rocky Mountain areas from the central Wapiti north through Utah, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming to British Columbia and Alberta, opportunity was taken to make notes and observations on areas of interest for nature study and for tourists in general, since so many inquiries are coming to the Smithsonian Institution along these lines. The modern tourist is coming to demand from the scientists an explanation of the things he sees, and the Smithsonian is best fitted in many respects to supply this demand.

Let your 'pin money' buy two of these NEW Rugs... And each rug will have the new enduring 'Accolac' finish

What a pleasant surprise to find that the things you admire and want cost less than you expected to pay!

These new Armstrong's Quaker-Felt Rugs, for instance, that good stores are showing. Your "pin-money" bank probably holds enough to buy one or two of them—and room-size at that.

The designs are new, different; and printed in heavy, clear-toned oil colors over a carefully treated felt base. Each Quaker-Felt Rug is then given the added protection of enduring "Accolac"—a special lacquer like that used on the finest cars. "Accolac" keeps its rich luster under constant day-by-day wear and repeated soap-and-water washings.

Finally, each of these rugs proudly bears on its face a certificate guarantee of satisfaction—or the promise of a brand-new rug. Easily rolled up, these rugs are a boon in any home. Apartment house dwellers find many places for them.

Armstrong's Quaker-Felt is also offered you by-the-yard. You can have it in 6-foot and 9-foot widths in a score of pleasing patterns.

FIDEL TO LEAD CARD MUD ROW

STANFORD UNIVERSITY,
Oct. 6. (AP)—Fidel La Barba thrust aside thoughts of the ring when he registered as a freshman at Stanford last week but the footwork that helped him win the flyweight championship may stand him in good stead here after all.

He was elected last night to lead the first-year men in their annual mud fight Friday with members of the sophomore class.
The somewhat dubious honor conferred on La Barba means that the immaculate little chap who renounced the 112-pound boxing title will lead his cohorts in an effort to shove a hundred or more hulky sophomores into a pit four feet deep and full of mud and oil.

his foes baffled with a clever change of pace and exceptionally good control.

LOLLOTT TALLIES BOTH RUNS

Lloyd Wanner tallied both of the Pirates' runs. He tripled in the first inning to score on Barnhart's sacrifice hit and scooted home in the eighth on brother Paul's sacrifice fly after he had walked and raced to third on Barnhart's single.

Outside of these two brief scores,
the Pirates' attack was chiefly conspicuous by its absence. The Blue got no more than one hit in any inning. Outside of the first and eighth they didn't get a runner beyond second base.

George Grantham reached second the second inning on his single and Joe Harris' cut but was stranded by Goach. Grantham opened the seventh with a rattling double up against the right-field wall—barely three feet short of a home run—but Harris was thrown out by Koenig after which Lazzeri broke up the rally by throwing Goach's drive and doubling Grantham at second. Traynor also doubled, in the fourth, with one out, but neither Grantham nor Harris had the punch to bring him home.

The eighth-inning spurt of the Pirates was punctuated by another and, so far, the loudest demonstration in behalf of Kiki Cuyler,
"banished" outfielder, when Earl Smith was sent in to bat for Cvengros. The crowd of 40-000, or most of it, yelled for Cuyler in no uncertain terms and let loose a chorus of howls and catcalls as Smith bounded weakly to Lou Gehrig.

The Yankees' whose play yesterday was nearly as spotty as that of the Pirates, settled down today to give

Oregon Aggies Arrive Today for U.S.C. Tilt

BY BRAVEN DYER

Paul Schiesler, the big shift and stop man of the great Northwest, brings his Oregon Aggies to town
this morning.

Coming via Glendale and Pasadena. The farmers from Corvallis will part their horns in the Hotel Huntington and are slated
to take a light workout this afternoon, either at the local Coliseum or in the Crown City Rose Bowl.

Mr. Schiesler, with the aid of
K. K. Rockne,
the noted Notre Dam gridiron strategist, has perfected a new shift which both expect to prove especially effective. Inasmuch as U.S.C. who opposed the Aggies at the Coliseum tomorrow, has always shown much strength against this particular style of attack, it will be worth noting what this new wrinkle of Mr.
Schiesler is able to accomplish against the Sons of Troy.

Last year at Portland the old shift netted one touchdown, sald score coming after a blocked kick. The count was 17 to 7 in favor of the Trojans. The year before that Schiesler didn't get any touchdowns at all with his old shift, the tally sheet reading 28 to 0.

This time, with the new shift, he expects better results. At that it will not be surprising to see the Aggies score a couple of touchdowns tomorrow. Certainly if Santa Clara,

TASK TOO MUCH FOR ALDRIDGE

Pirate Pitcher Collapses in Eighth; Bucs Wobly Throughout Game

(By George Moriarty, Manager Detroit

Baseball Team)

(Copyright, 1927, in all countries by Natl. American Newspaper Alliance.)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 6.—New York's Yankees dominated the Pirates in a most amazing manner in the second game of the series, winning 6 to 2.

The entire Pittsburgh defense was wobbly throughout the game and
this applies particularly to Vie Aldridge, upon whom Donie
Bush had pinned
his hopes to stop the slugging American League pitcher.

Aldridge, like Kremer in the first game, seemed to feel the grave responsibility of halting the Yankees. He had to be taken out in the eighth inning when he walked Bengough and Pipgras in succession. Just previous to that he had cut loose with a wild pitch that scored Mussel from third.

Aldridge collapsed more completely than Kremer. I think his plan of high, fast balls and curves brought about his downfall. He was in the hole almost from the start.

Pipgras Gets Big Hand for Win Over Bucs

BY EDWARD J. NEIL

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Oct. 6. (AP)—A big, jovial youngster—"the happiest guy in the world"—took the "lacing of his life" today after the Pittsburgh Pirates had failed either to deny his composure or the darting right-hand slants he tossed their way in the Yankees' quietly after the greatest hurling victory of his rather variegated career.
The reception he got swept him
into a corner, huddled in a crowd away from the boisterous attack of his team-mates.

Big Reception
The Yankees, who had seen him come and go at various times in the past six years and perch on the bench in the fall classic of 1926, while the Cardinals grabbed the championship honors, pounded his back, wrung his hands, and hazed him like a college freshman.

On the outside of all the excitement stood Bob Shawkey, a world series starting pitcher himself.

McGRAW IS VICTOR IN TERRIS GO

Sid Fouls Foe With Low Blow in Second Round of Fight

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—Phil Mc-

Graw of Detroit won on a foul from Sid Terris, New York lightweight, in the second round of a ten-round feature bout at Ebbets Field tonight.

The disqualification of Terris came as a great surprise to some 30,000 fans, who cheered the New Yorker as the victor until the announcement was made of foul.

Terris was petting McGraw with rights and lefts and McGraw to the resin. The timekeeper started counting McGraw out, but following an inspection, he was declared victim of a low punch and adjudged the winner.

Writing in great pain, McGraw was carried to his corner by his seconds. McGraw weighed 134 and Terris 132½.

Physicians announced McGraw suffered a serious injury after a later round.

BILL HENRY

So far the football season, which is still like the movies, in infancy, has failed to produce very many "great" players, then it is a little early for that. So far, at the Coliseum, Drury and Thomas of U.S.C. have been rather outstanding in the backfield play and Hibbs, Fox and Anthony of U.S.C. and Beebe of U.C.L.A. have been outstanding in the line. Simon of Santa Clara leads the kickers with Roosevelt and Jack Schuster of Ory close behind. From all reports of early-season games we can count for U.C.L.A.'s phantom halfback, Joe Fleming, to be up to his old tricks.

From the north the outstanding individual star appears to be Albert Hall tonight. Smith won on points. The bout opened the boxing season, and created great interest in view of Baldock's coming fight with Bud Taylor, of Terre Haute, Ind., world's bantamweight champion.

English Boxer Loses to South African; Taylor to Battle Britisher in Title Go

LONDON, Oct. 6. (P)—Willie Smith, the undefeated South African 120-pounder, defeated Teddy Baldock of England, in a fifteen-round fight at Albert Hall tonight. Smith won on points. The bout opened the boxing season, and created great interest in view of Baldock's coming fight with Bud Taylor, of Terre Haute, Ind., world's bantamweight champion.

WINNER FAVORED TO LOSE RETURN BOUT

Henry Palagano, who knocked Joe Pimental down three times for the nine count in their fight in Fresno several months ago, is favored to take it on the chin himself tomorrow night when he meets the Ventura battler in a return, winner-take-all bout, which will top Carlo Curtis's boxing program at the Main Street Athletic Club.

These two will clash in the eight-round main event. The semi-wind-up will be another stinging match featuring Young Terry, ex-sailor, who meets Clarence Moulden over the six-round route. Johnny Liles and Ray Salisbury tangle in the six-round special, while Johnny Cruz and Pancho Aguilar, Jimmy Valenti and Stanley Blanton meet in the two four-round bouts.

Sagehens Put Through Final Paces by Nixon

Veteran Backfield to Start in Rose Bowl
Caltech in Fine Shape for Crucial Game

CLAREMONT, Oct. 6. (Exclusive)—Pomona's varsity football team went through a final workout tonight and now there isn't anything left to do but wait until the whistle blows at 1 o'clock when the Sagehens will meet the Caltech team at the Rose Bowl, Pasadena.

On the eve of this first and probably one of the toughest games on the schedule, there isn't enough confidence in the Sagehens camp to inflate a toy balloon. The team itself knows its chances of victory depend upon itself and doesn't feel the least that it is in the coaching staff and student body. Nixon says frankly he thinks Caltech will be able to gain a lot of ground on the boys, and is afraid they may get beat on fumbling or some other trait of inexperience.

No perceptible change has been made in the line-up although it's still quite moot question between Colley and Lee Williams for that backfield job. It's entirely possible that Lloyd Miller may be at guard instead of Bodecker when the game starts, also. Roeder hasn't come out of a pulled muscle any too well and has been asked to some extent by the coaches.

Other than Merritt, Manildi and Hartman will be in the backfield, Nalband and Bishop on the ends, Mitchell and Mayes at tackle. Bishop at one guard and Archibald at center.

Nixon has drilled the boys every night for ten days against passes and has given them five or six different defense formations that he hopes will be effective in breaking up the Engineer aerial attack, which he knows from past experience is good. Likewise, the second team was taught the Tech shift the other night and tried to work that on the regulars, the whatever the Sagehens have in store along that line won't be entirely a novelty for Pomona.

Although the line has plenty of reserve power on the bench, Nixon's hair will turn snow white if one or two of his backs are laid low. Either Williams or Colley will be on the bench and Lyle Martin, a sophomore halfback, and the completes the list of backfield subs. Frank Dyer, sophomore end, has been drilled for a halfback's job, but Nixon naturally doesn't expect anything serious enough to bring line-men back.

CALTECH IN SHAPE FOR SAGEHENS
PASADENA, Oct. 6. (Exclusive)—Coach "Fox" Stanton drove his Caltech proteges through a long session of "mud drill" tonight in preparation for Saturday's bout with Eugene Nixon's Pomona Sagehens.

The local gridiron came through last week's easy Redlands game without anything resembling an injury. Saturday's starting line-up very likely will be the same as last week: Watson's old berth at fullback, with Muff shifted from quarter to half, and Kingsman filling in at quarter. Replacing Watson and triple-threat Stanton in the backfield is the chief problem confronting the Caltech men for this year.

Saturday's session in the Rose Bowl will be preceded by a game between the Caltech and Pomona frosh at 1 o'clock. Pomona has sent word that it is bringing a cheering section of several hundred students and a band.

The famous double knockout which caused as much consternation during the Rivers-Wolgast bout as that famous seventh round of the Dempsey-Tunney battle, is shown in lightweight fight pictures. The Chicago fight film presented by Tex Rickard is the only official film taken at the ring-side.

ALEKHINE IN DRAW
BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 6. (P)—The tenth game for the world's chess championship between Jose R. Capablanca of Havana, title-holder, and Alexander Alekhine, Russian challenger, ended in a draw tonight after only twenty moves.

The match, which lasted little more than an hour, was conducted with great rapidity and almost from the beginning it was clearly seen that it could terminate in a deadlock. After an exchange of pieces which did not alter the positions of the two masters, they agreed to a draw.

Capablanca has won two matches, Alekhine one and seven have been drawn.

Second Win by Yanks Disturbs Pittsburgh Rooters

PIANS BOO BUSH AND HOWL FOR KIKI CUYLER

Smoky City Supporters Wrathful at Manager for Failure to Use Outfielder in Pinches

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 6.—The Yankees won another baseball match from Mr. B. Dreyfuss's Pittsburgh concern, the Pirates, this afternoon and the customers of the local business house were so disturbed about it that they filled the air with unpleasant remarks about their hero of recent date, Mr. Donie Bush, managing editor of the journalistic Pittsburgh team. The score of the baseball match was 6 to 2 and the Yankees, for the second time in two days, scored three of their runs in the third inning, which is not only a coincidence but a statistic, and therefore a paradox as coincidences prove nothing, whereas statistics prove anything.

It is surprising how many unpleasant remarks it takes to fill the air even in Pittsburgh, where the atmosphere normally is so thick that it has to be taken with a knife and fork, and a sugar bowl, allowed to stand uncovered for fifteen minutes by a fast watch, looks like a load of screen coal. The customers were annoyed by Mr. Bush because he did not employ an athlete by the name of Cuyler, who used to play middle field for the Dreyfuss firm, even as a pinch-hitter in the eighth inning. Center-field is called middle field in Pittsburgh, which is something else wrong with the place. Of course, the customers everywhere have a great talent for being annoyed when the local firm is losing a baseball match, so Mr. Bush probably was not much perturbed by the popular displeasure, but Mr. Will Evans, the American League umpire, representing those who take their baseball to heart, was very wrathful about it, indeed.

BOO MANAGER BUSH
"Can you imagine the customers doing that to a man who went out and won a pennant for them in his first year as manager?" Mr. Evans demanded, proving that he is still a very young man after twenty years behind the pneumatic shirt-front of the umpire and still examining the vagaries of the customers for motives.

Some of the customers merely yelled "We want Cuyler," which was an indirect reproach to Mr. Bush, but others yelled "boo" with a slight Pennsylvania Dutch accent, and there was nothing indirect about that.

It appears that the city of Pittsburgh is divided into two armed camps about the Cuyler matter, as I saw something to this effect in one of the local papers today. One camp is on the south hills and the other on the north hills, and all these people feel one way or another about a dispute between a prominent business man, Mr. Dreyfuss, and an employee who gets $12,000 a year, Mr. Cuyler. If Mr. Dreyfuss were in the ladies' ready-to-wear industry and had a dispute with a shipping clerk, the customers of his firm probably would say it was too bad, too bad, too bad, and they would not care to take because he never has claimed that he was in the baseball industry.

INTIMATE REPARTEE
In these last two days, I have read at least a dozen of these pieces of the way to the second sentence without discovering what Mr. Bush said to Mr. Earl (Loser) Smith for missing a throw to catch a runner in the first game. Instead of the intimate repartee between the employees on the field regarding which there is such arid interest and murky mystery, these pieces have dealt with baseball technique and it was through my own enterprise that I discovered what Mr. Bush said to Mr. Tony Lazzeri when Mr. Barnhart sat down so emphatically on Mr. Lazzeri's wrist and sprained it. However, if what Mr. Bush said in this debate is anything like what he said to Mr. Smith for missing the throw, the understanding why the journalists on the team expunged his remarks from their articles. Having discovered what Mr. Bush said to Mr. Lazzeri, my fine sense of delicacy now warns me that he should not be quoted literally in a newspaper which goes into the American home.

They state that Mr. Bush is a very determined gentleman. He stands about as high as Mr. Fred Fulton, who usually stands with the back of his head and the rear of his thighs firmly planted on the canvas. By this I mean to imply that Mr. Bush would have to jump up on a hydrant to hit Mr. Miller Huggins north of the belt, although Mr. Huggins, himself, could walk under one of those underslung German dogs, the dachshund, I believe, wearing high heels and a pompadour.

HAD GREAT APPETITE
It is a good thing for Mr. Babe Ruth that Mr. Huggins was not as irritable as Mr. Bush in the days when Mr. Ruth and the rest of the Yankees were playing boyish pranks on Mr. Huggins a few seasons ago because Mr. Bush in a petulant mood would have reduced a $100,000 ball player to a total loss plus bonus if any one had leaned into his berth at night and tried to make him swallow a cabbage whole. Mr. Bush was irrepressible in those days and he probably thought there was nothing irregular about this because he had a great appetite himself and it used to be said that he could eat a bath towel raw if you gave him gravy with it.

The team of Altrock and Schacht, who have been conducting an interesting research into the longevity of certain humorous gags for many years without reaching any conclusion yet, was seriously embarrassed today, but the performance proceeded and the customers laughed as their forefathers did before them. Owing to a regrettable oversight, Mr. Schacht did not notice that the second game of the world series would fall on a day of great religious solemnity and significance to him, Yom Kippur. When he was sitting in it in the morning, he looked like a gentleman by the name of Foley who has just started to add a two-inch steak only to be reminded that the day before yesterday was Wednesday.

Mr. Dreyfuss, whose faith is synonymous with Mr. Schacht's did not attend the baseball match at all, but Mr. Altrock protested so earnestly about Mr. Schacht's withdrawal that Mr. Schacht compromised.

"After all," Mr. Schacht said, "the team of Altrock and Schacht is only 50 per cent Jewish so we will lay off half a day. We will lay off all morning."

CAN'T RESIST SPORTS
The University of Baltimore, which hitherto has shunned all competitive sports, has decided to change its policy. Basketball and tennis teams have been organized and next year the school will go in for football and a cross.

BEEF IN STANFORD BACKFIELD

Pop Warner Juggles Men So as to Acquire Heavy Ball Carriers

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 6.—In a last-minute effort to assemble a backfield possessing the "punch" that was so conspicuously absent last Saturday, Stanford coach, yesterday sent through a scrimmage a heavy collection of bull-packers ever gathered together on a Stanford gridiron.

This backfield, with Mike Murphy at quarter, Biff Hoffman at half and Ernie Patchett at full, averaged in the neighborhood of 190 pounds and will probably start Saturday against Nevada. Either Heinicke, sophomore center, or Alex Cook will fill the place of Hal McCreary, the Cardinal first-string pivot man, who is now on the injured list, while the rest of the starting line-up will also be composed of second-string men.

WINTER TILT POSTPONED
The Santa Monica Merchants, under the management of Larry Arnold, have postponed the opening of their winter season at Santa Monica until Sunday, the 15th inst., at which time they will play the last Pacific Electric nine. The Merchants were supposed to start play on the 9th inst. but found it necessary to postpone the opening one week.

SAMMY BAKER WINS BOUT

Slugging Sergeant Cops Decision Over Billy Alger in Rough Battle at Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 6. (AP)—Sergeant Sammy Baker, New York, failed to stop Billy Alger of Phoenix, Ariz., in ten savage rounds at the Coliseum here tonight. Baker, however, won the verdict of the judges for his cleaner and harder punching.

Baker could not check Alger's attack even with solid smashes to the jaw. Baker fought a counter-battle, refusing to lead and waiting for Alger to come in. Alger won a split decision, 111-105-93, by a willingness to trade punches with the harder-hitting sergeant. There were no knockdowns although both bled. Baker and Alger were allowed up a half-dozen times. Each weighed 144-145 pounds.

Bakewell, Cuban guero, light-heavyweight, scored a technical knockout over Art Weigand of Butte in the first round of their scheduled ten-round bout. The Cuban southpaw dropped Weigand three times for counts of nine, when a towel came fluttering into the ring. He was helpless and out from the hard smashes Bakewell landed on his chin.

Lope Tellerio, a Filipino lightweight, won the verdict over Rust Whalen of Chicago in ten rounds. Whalen was in retreat most of the time before the Filipino's rushes. Whalen's left eye was closed in the fourth round and this handicapped him.

Chester Bush, New Orleans, 135 pounds, won the decision over Johnny Holly of Los Angeles in six rounds, while Joe Medill, 135-pounder from Chicago, defeated "Red" Dolan of Chicago, in another six-round bout.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all its own drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as the most effective remedy for the treatment of persistent coughs and colds and for other forms of throat troubles. Creosote is a natural substance which, in its pure form, contains all the healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes of the throat, soothe the inflamed inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed there and enters the blood stream, where it soothes and checks the growth of the germs.

Creosulation is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, whooping cough, influenza, and other respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after bouts of illness. Creosote is a natural remedy and is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist for a bottle of Creosol.

AFTER PERIOD OF TORTURE, MAN FINDS RELIEF FROM ITCHING

Skin now entirely healed

Charlestown (Boston), Mass.
Dec. 18:—"Last June I had an itching irritation on my back, principally between the shoulders, and also on the back of my hands, extending to the shoulders. The skin was apparently clear of any disorder, but the itching was intense. After a vigorous rubbing with a Turkish towel there would appear two spots, about an inch apart, rubbing. I used Bay Rum and other lotions before I tried your Resinol Ointment. At bedtime my back received a thorough washing with Resinol Soap and a very generous application of Ointment, after which I would rest quite comfortably until about two or three in the application. A third upon arising would be enough to make me feel at ease during the day. Thanks to the above treatment, the trouble is now entirely healed." (Signed) John W. Matthews, 1 Crystal Place.

Necklace Suit Appears

FRANCISCO, Oct. 6. (Excl.)—The former Sidi Wirt Spreckels became the Princess Suplee by a marriage into East India royalty following the death of her husband, the late John J. Spreckels, Jr., today found herself at the center of a controversy in the Supreme Court over payment of $90,000 pearl necklace purchased from Tiffany & Co. long after the necklace was lost. Her testimony was that she inherited it to William Barrett, but he had it insured, but she asserted to have sold it, pocketing the proceeds and disappearing as a fugitive at present. In a decision in Superior Court, the court held that the Spreckels was not liable for the necklace, but the Supreme Court action will appeal by Tiffany & Co.

GENEVA, Oct. 6. (P)—An attack on the illicit drug traffic and a demand for international action to stop it were the main points of Col. Woods' address to a group of lawyers here today.

The growing evil was described by the colonel as a "great plague" which has spread over the world. He said that the same was true of the United States, where the traffic in narcotics has become a serious problem.

He then introduced a resolution which called for a conference of the nations to discuss the problem of narcotics. The resolution was adopted by a large majority.

Arguments Started in Case of Aged Minister Charged With Bigamy

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) Oct. 6. (P)—A plea that "this poor old gray-haired man with bent shoulders and a faulty mind" be allowed to "go back to Virginia to his wife and boy who will nurse him back to health" was made today to the Superior Court jury.

The argument began soon after the State and defense had rested, and Judge James L. Webb had announced that each side would have two hours to make its case.

The case is expected to reach the jury about noon tomorrow. Solicitor-General Carpenter will present the case of the State and Tom P. Jimison will close for the defense.

The unfolding of a life history of struggles marked in its early years by brutal treatment and hardship, told by the minister, charged with illegally marrying Mrs. Emma Langridge here August 19, and the expert testimony of Dr. John E. S. Davidson, Charlotte alienist, featured today's proceedings. Dr. Davidson testified that Jordan suffers with a progressive type of arterio-sclerotic dementia and senile psychosis and was not now responsible for his actions and had not been for several weeks or months.

"I do not doubt that the minister has several wives, the condition his mind is in," said Dr. Davidson in reply to a question by the Solicitor on cross-examination.

PLAQUE MARKS
BRIDGE FINDING

Placed on Buttriss of Stone
Arch in Arizona
Indian Discoverer Pictured Sitting on Horse

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Oct. 6. (Exclusive)—Through the generosity of the National Park Service, the discovery of the Rainbow Natural Bridge has been commemorated by the placing of a 250-pound bronze plaque on a buttriss of the great arch of stone.

The plaque, executed by Jo Mora, bears in relief a picture of the discoverer, Navajo Indian, sitting on his horse and looking toward the scenic wonder.

In the party, as guide, was John Wetherill of Kayenta, the first white man to see the bridge, led thither by the Navajo. Acceptance of the plaque was by Frank Pinkley, superintendent of southwestern national monuments.

The plaque was too heavy and too broad to be taken over the steep mountain trails on mule-back, so had to be dragged fifteen miles on an Indian travois, made of oak and juniper limbs.

DEER CAMPS CROWDED
FLAGSTAFF, Oct. 6. (Exclusive)—So many hunters are in the Kaibab reserve north of the Grand Canyon, as to render advisable advance reservations at the several government camps. Hunting is permitted only from these camps, which accommodate seventy-five visitors.

The season is limited by State law to the month of October, with a limit of one buck. Deer are more than plentiful and are fat, with the creek running water everywhere and with good grass and browse.

PHOENIX, Oct. 6. (Exclusive)—Cherie Novak, a Los Angeles nurse, has entered suit in the Superior Court here, asking $15,000 recompense from Henry Poe of Phoenix for asserted breach of promise. She says she met Poe in a Los Angeles hotel. She followed him to Phoenix and sought him at an address he had given her. At the door, she says, she was met by Poe's wife. Poe is "asserted to be a business man of means."

PENALTY OF NEW LAW
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 6. (P)—Louis Hevia, first person in Sacramento county to be convicted of possession of an illicit whisky still under the new law which imposes one year in prison and $1000 fine as the minimum punishment, today escaped payment of the fine and also the penitentiary sentence. Instead he will serve one year in the Sacramento County Jail and after that will be at liberty under probation for a period of two years. The sentence was imposed by Judge Glenn, under the law enacted by the Legislature which gives Superior Courts wide powers not heretofore granted in the matter of probation.

NEW ENTRY IN FIGHT ON FLOOD WILL

State University Regents
Parties to Demurrer to
Mrs. Gavin's Claim

REDWOOD CITY, Oct. 6. (P)—The regents of the University of California entered the James A. Flood will case fight today with the filing of a demurrer here to the claim of Mrs. Constance May Gavin for a daughter's share of the wealthy estate.

Garret McErmerney, representing the Flood heirs directly, the deceased's widow, Mrs. Maud Lee Flood, and her cotrustees, James E. Walsh, filed the action to have Mrs. Gavin establish definitely the following points:

(1) When and where she was born.
(2) Name of her mother.
(3) Whether she asserts her mother was the wife of Flood.
(4) Whether she asserts she was born legitimately.
(5) If illegitimately, how was she legitimated.

The university regents are interested in the case because they are made beneficiaries of a large bulk of the estate eventually, in the event no grandchildren of Flood are born. The motion is made on the ground that the petitioner's claim "vague, general, indefinite and uncertain."

Judge Buck took the motion under advisement. Mrs. Gavin filed suit last year demanding the share of the estate, reputed to be $18,000,000, asserting that she is the daughter of James Flood, San Francisco millionaire, by his first wife, Marie Rosina Fritz Flood, formerly of Kansas City. She contends that after her mother died she was placed in a convent and that Flood then married her mother's sister, Maude Lee Fritz, the present Mr. Flood.

WOULD CLUTTER AIR
"After a long study of the subject, I gave a report at that time that it was an impractical proposition and recommended strongly against it. Eighteen months later, a gentleman representing that organization told me that my thoughts were not sound. He said that time had saved them thousands of dollars. Now, however, the state of the air is such that every time one of these little waves goes out it fills up and clutters the air. Now, if we had all the railroads of the United States operating what we call mobile stations the whole atmosphere would be jammed full of these wave lengths and it would be an extremely difficult proposition for the Chief, Radio Commission which has control over licensing those things to keep them all separated."

USES USE OF WIRES
"Sixteen prominent railroads in the United States have for their own exclusive use and now use 158,624 miles of telephone wire. Here is a chance along your own line of developing a radio system of your own that could not be approached in any other way through the application of what is known as the wired wireline. You can use these telephone lines with one transmitter and with the wired wireless run that into every station along the line or any other place you want to put it."

"Now here comes a new industry that I think will be coming—whether you think so or not, I think you will do it—somebody will make this experiment of trying to control and operate their trains by radio; and in these days it is a perfectly simple and practical proposition with very little capital expenditure involved."

"The question of communications between the two ends of long freight trains going over mountains and around curves in thick, misty weather whereby the men in the locomotive and the men in the cabooses could be in constant communication with one another is quite an independent one from the one I spoke of a few minutes ago, the application of wired wireless over present existing lines. Such a scheme if put into effect for a train would be a brand new proposition and I should like to see it done."

Death Decree
for Fan Noli
TIRANA (Albania) Oct. 6. (P)—Bishop Fan S. Noli, former Premier of Albania and first Albanian delegate to the League of Nations, was sentenced to death today for signing recently a manifesto protesting against the regime of Ahmed Zogu, who executed a coup d'etat in December, 1924, ousting Fan Noli.

Eight other members of the special committee for the liberation of Albania also were sentenced to death. The sentences were by default since all of the condemned men are living abroad.

Bishop Fan S. Noli was reported on June 18 to have signed a Bolshevik manifesto intended to bring about a revolution in Albania and turn all Balkan states into a federation of soviet Socialist republics.

ITALIAN COURT TRIES

NEW PENAL CODE INVOKED AGAINST FALA RESIDING IN ARGENTINA
ROME, Oct. 6. (Exclusive)—The first case of an individual tried by the Italian courts for crimes committed abroad came up before the penal tribunal of Genoa, where two Italians living in Argentina have been condemned to eight months imprisonment for insults to the memory of the late Dowager Queen Margherita.

The prosecution was based on the new Italian penal code, contemplating punishment both for Italian citizens and foreigners having violated Italian laws abroad. In such cases the demand for prosecution must be made by the Minister of Justice, who designates also a competent court.

In the present case the defendants are well-known anarchists, Vittorio Mosca and Enrico Pierino, both residing at Buenos Aires. The former is the author of an offensive article and the latter the publisher of an anti-Paciotti newspaper, Italia Del Popolo, in Buenos Aires.

The famous baritone, Titta Ruffo, who had been accused of having inspired the article, was cleared after an investigation by the Italian Ambassador to Argentina.

RADIO CONTROL OF TRAIN URGED

Admiral Bullard Asserts
Plan Feasible States Wired Wireless Should be Developed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (Exclusive)—Use of radio in the operation of trains is a perfectly feasible proposition and should be developed, Admiral Bullard, chairman of the Federal Radio Commission, today told the closing session at the Willard Hotel of the eleventh annual convention of the telegraph and telephone section of the American Railway Association. Admiral Bullard said in part:

"The question of train operation is not an old one by any means. I can readily understand the desirability of control and communication between moving trains and different parts of the same train, for instance—between the locomotive and the cabooses of a long freight train. There ought to be some more reliable means of communicating between the front and the rear end of these trains."

Twelve years ago I was approached by one of the big western railroads and asked to develop a scheme by which they could use radio for controlling their trains. They had the idea of controlling their dispatching, and communication between their long freight trains, by means of radio.

"After a long study of the subject, I gave a report at that time that it was an impractical proposition and recommended strongly against it. Eighteen months later, a gentleman representing that organization told me that my thoughts were not sound. He said that time had saved them thousands of dollars. Now, however, the state of the air is such that every time one of these little waves goes out it fills up and clutters the air. GREATER SUGAR PROFITS LOOM

Holly Corporation Expected to Have Better Year

Earnings Due to be Larger Than in 1926 Period

Ten Plants of Company Now in Capacity Operation

Should the price of refined sugar remain at the prevailing level for the balance of the year, earnings of the Holly Sugar Corporation for the current fiscal year should be at least 10 to 15 percent greater than in the twelve months ended March 31, last, according to a statement made yesterday by C. A. Johnson, Los Angeles representative of the company.

Ten of the corporation's plants in five Western States are now operating at full capacity and the Alvarado plant in the San Francisco Bay District will be placed in operation on the 20th inst. Its water in handling the peak load. The total output from these eleven plants for the current season is expected to exceed 3,000,000 bags. This compares with a total production of 2,500,000 bags in the fiscal year ended March 31, last, and 1,333,138 bags in 1926.

At the present price of 12 1/2¢ a bag for refined sugar, which is exactly the same as a year ago, a total production of 3,000,000 bags would net the company approximately $11,000,000, as against a gross revenue of slightly more than $7,000,000 in the last fiscal year, from sugar operations, exclusive of earnings from the Holly Oil Company.

The corporation's two California plants at Santa Ana and Tracy were placed in operation on the 1st inst. and are expected to produce approximately 250,000 and 200,000 bags, respectively. The Alvarado plant will produce in the neighborhood of 600,000 bags. The output from the approximately 100 other plants will be approximately 100 percent greater than a year ago, while the production at Santa Ana will represent an increase of about 50,000 bags.

All of the other plants of the company are now in operation and are located as follows: Three in Colorado, three in Wyoming and one each in Montana and Idaho. The output from these eight plants is expected to aggregate nearly 1,500,000 bags, or about 60 percent of the total production from all plants in the last fiscal year.

Net profit of the Holly Sugar Corporation for the year ended March 31, last, after all charges, including depreciation and interest, and including dividends from the Holly Oil Company, amounted to $408,718.11. The corporation's earnings maintained a conservative depreciation write-off, this deduction in the last year amounting to $692,136.22.

WALL STREET PARAGRAPHS

Copyright, 1927, New York Evening Post, Inc.
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Word from Washington that a decision in the Van Sweringen revised plan for merger might be handed down by the Interstate Commerce Commission early in December, stimulated demand for the stock of roads involved in that set-up. Chesapeake and Ohio rallied close to its record levels. Erie was well bought and Pere Marquette rallied slightly higher.

Still A Rough Road
Consolidation today was the effect that a number of big Chicago traders have been taking a fling at the short side of the market within the last fortnight. There is known to have been a distinct shift in speculative sentiment in that section of the country since the sounding of a warning by a prominent Chicago banker against what he termed the "anticipation" of the coming of a speculative selling from this source has been something of a factor in the recent uncertainty of sentiment here, but it was similarly admitted that the western bears have had little more success than their eastern counterparts.

Banks and Stock Loans
Inquiry among a number of the larger brokerage houses appeared to reveal reports of banks cutting their loan values on stock exchange collateral have been exaggerated. It was admitted freely enough that such a course had been taken in the case of a relatively few issues among the higher-priced stocks, but it was stated likewise that collateral values of the average run of stocks had not been affected.

Oil Again Weak
Reports that another cut in crude oil prices is impending, together with the apparent weakness in the gas line market, led to further selling of petroleum shares. It was remarked that with the best season of the year past the industry is no better off than it was in the spring of the year. Phillips selling was weakly reported for pool account and brought rumors that in all likelihood no further dividends would be forthcoming until conditions changed.

Drive On Steel
Early weakness in Steel common was put down as reflecting the effects of a strong bearish reaction to the fresh gains in the market. The medium of forcing that stock through the previous low levels which is regarded as the resistance point. But the move was frustrated by the throwing in of strong powerful support buying just above the low levels of last week, and in subsequent dealings efforts to cover by early sellers accelerated a brisk rally.

Magma Copper's Rise
The rise in Magma Copper, like that which has taken place in Greene Cananea, is accompanied by rumors of the finding of a new and valuable vein. But so far as Magma is concerned there has been no official comment forthcoming. Wall Street, however, is disposed to ascribe the buying of the latter stock to accumulation by a prominent operator active in the stock on previous occasions, who recently was reported to have disposed of his large holdings of Texas Gulf Sulphur to new interests.

Production of Fat Cattle on Gain in State
Contrary to the general belief, the production of beef cattle in California is not decreasing, according to R. M. Hagen, assistant managing director of the Western Cattle Marketing Association. The present good price levels on beef cattle here today among the speculative element over the uncertainty of what the government's cotton-crop estimate in its monthly report due at 11 o'clock on Saturday will be. There was further pressure of scattered liquidation from the opening left over from yesterday, when prices closed with a net decline of between 40 and 45 points of the low levels reached a fortnight ago during a similar selling movement.

SUGAR MARKET
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(Exclusive)—It was mostly an evening-up market today among the speculative element over the uncertainty of what the government's cotton-crop estimate in its monthly report due at 11 o'clock on Saturday will be. There was further pressure of scattered liquidation from the opening left over from yesterday, when prices closed with a net decline of between 40 and 45 points of the low levels reached a fortnight ago during a similar selling movement.

Large Percent of Estates of $5000 and Over Spent in Five to Seven Years

BY WILLIAM MURNELL WHITE
[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Because 80 per cent of all estates amounting to $5000 or more are dissipated within five to seven years after being turned over to heirs, the practice of creating personal trusts to administer savings for beneficiaries has spread rapidly in recent years.

Perhaps the most significant advance in this direction has been made in the life insurance trusts, in which proceeds of policies are paid to a trustee empowered to distribute them in accordance with the wishes of the maker of the trust. Life insurance companies were the first to realize the need of some method for conserving estates and they have given much attention to so-called income policies, the proceeds of which are paid out to the beneficiary at regular intervals over a period of years.

Insurance companies are unable, however, to manage estates, and cannot offer the flexibility in plans for distribution of proceeds that is made available by a trust company. These concerns, therefore, are co-operating with life insurance underwriters in assisting persons to preserve their estates.

All that is required to form a personal trust is a life insurance policy. The trust is a simple matter. Most trust companies have prepared forms for getting the necessary information in the place of a lawyer. The person who is to draw up the document, trust company will gladly introduce a lawyer if the maker is unacquainted with one.

Personal trusts may be either revocable or irrevocable. That is, the grantor may stipulate in the agreement that he reserves the right to advised investments in this order: (1.) A savings account. (2.) Life insurance, where there are unprotected dependents. (3.) Home ownership, where land value is high. (4.) Sound bonds yielding about 5 or 6 per cent. (5.) Stocks of established, profitable companies; never stocks of new companies.

The sincerity of this advice is attested by the fact that this man's interests are wholly in bonds; not in stocks, life insurance companies or real estate. Yet he places bonds fourth on his progressive steps for small investors. In buying bonds, he says buy $1000 denominations, never less. If you put down $1000 then buy $100 or $500 denominations, baby bonds. His reason for this is that smaller denominations cannot always be sold as advantageously as the $1000 piece. If the investor should wish to sell it any time, if the bond is to be held to maturity the $1000 piece is just as good as the larger denomination. This authority cautions against buying securities on the installment plan, unless the buyer has made sure by careful investigation, that the dealer is thoroughly reliable.

Oct. 6. (Exclusive)—It was mostly an evening-up market today among the speculative element over the uncertainty of what the government's cotton-crop estimate in its monthly report due at 11 o'clock on Saturday will be. There was further pressure of scattered liquidation from the opening left over from yesterday, when prices closed with a net decline of between 40 and 45 points of the low levels reached a fortnight ago during a similar selling movement.

This brought the market down about 15 points more from yesterday's closing, with December settling around 20 5-8 cents; January, 20.70 cents; March, 20.95 cents; and May, 21.15 cents. This range of prices was within 50 to 60 points of the low levels reached a fortnight ago during a similar selling movement.

In the early afternoon there was an abrupt change to a covering movement among shorts on freezing weather in Arizona and Colorado, indicating the probability the cold wave will strike into Western Oklahoma and Northern Texas tomorrow.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—Profit-taking developed in many sections of the bond market today, and prices of various issues advanced after touching their highest levels of the year. There were many points of consistent strength, however, especially in the public-utility and railroad groups.

New York traction mortgages continued to hold the lead which they assumed yesterday, Interborough 5's and 7's reaching new tops while Brooklyn-Manhattan 6's scored an extreme gain of a point. North American Edison 5's sold as high as 102 for the first time in 1932, but closed fractionally under yesterday's close.

Sentiment in the railway group leaned toward Chesapeake Corporation 5's, Texas and Pacific 5's, Erie 5's and general 4's, and bonds of several of the grain-carrier roads. Hudson and Manhattan 5's were active around 101-1/4, a new maximum.

Pressed Steel Car 5's duplicated their previous car as a whole was dull at steady prices.

Italian Kingdom obligations, buoyant in the past two or three sessions, turned downward again following official announcement that no loans to the Italian government are pending.

Italian municipal bonds, however, continued upward. Milan 6-1/2's reaching a new peak and Rome 6-1/2's selling within a shade of their previous best price.

Irregularity characterized the Federal government group.

The government bonds of bonds (U. S. Treasury notes and bonds) were active in the market, the 4's and 5's selling at a high level.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—Biting prices again were in force in the curb market today after two days of decided irregularity, sharp advances taking place in all sections of the list.

Paradoxically, the individual feature of the day was heavy selling of Bancit, which declined more than 3 points following warning by President I. M. Giannini of excessive speculation in the stock. The issue, stimulated by various rumors, had risen from a year's low of 87-1/2 to a high of 12-1/2. Today's close was just above 11-1/2.

Pools again interested themselves in Stutz Motors and Johns-Manville, both of which sold at new peak prices.

Deere & Co. also was in strong demand, advancing 10 points to 191-1/2 and closing at 190.

New peaks for the year or longer were established by a number of stocks, including Borden Company, Fidelity Sugar, Procter & Gamble, and Long Island Lighting. Washington Railway and Electric scored a sensational jump of 85 points to 370 on a handful of odd-lot sales.

The close was a rather one-way affair, with the last hour showing a decided advance in all sections of the list.

Deere & Co. was in strong demand, advancing 10 points to 191-1/2 and closing at 190.

In the Alamo Heights area of the Seal Beach field, where a few short weeks ago about sixty drilling crews were busily going after the various oil zones that have been developed in that district, the activity has dwindled to the point where there are not more than about fifteen wells actually drilling.

In contrast to this reduction in activity, there are about sixty wells developing in various stages of development, ranging from derricks which never had machinery moved in to them, to wells drilled into the oil zone, and suspended because of lack of production, or for some other reason.

This situation is indicative of a decrease in Alamo Heights activity which probably will reduce the output of the Seal Beach field perhaps 50 per cent by the first of the year. The decline in wells in all the zones of Alamo Heights has been unusually steep, and without new production to bolster up the total, it is inevitable that the total production of the field will very soon drop to a fraction of its present figure.

The decline at Seal Beach is producing about 60,000 barrels a day of which Alamo Heights is contributing about 45,000, from about sixty-five wells. The original zone of Seal Beach is making about 30,000 barrels from about forty wells. This latter figure probably will hold fairly steady because of the conservative operation policy that prevails there, but without the stimulus of new wells to hold it up, Alamo Heights is likely to slump below 30,000 barrels within the next three months. In this connection it is significant that practically all the Alamo Heights present production is coming from the Western zone, the upper and earlier developed zone having been practically exhausted already.

Gets Small Well
The Standard Oil Company has completed an interesting well in the Pacific Electric No. 15, on the extreme eastern end of the strip bordering the ocean front at Huntington Beach. The well is the most easterly of the standard wells on the Pacific Electric right of way, and shows the smallest initial rate of production, the official figure is 183 barrels a day from a depth of 2915 feet.

The difference between the production of the Pacific Electric wells on the western and eastern ends of the lease is regarded as an indication of the proximity of the east face of the property to the edge of the field, which has been suspected for some time.

Has Twenty-five Wells
The Superior Oil Company leads the field at Huntington Beach, both in total number of wells and in total production, with the single exception of the Standard Oil Company. The Superior has about twenty-five producing wells at Huntington Beach with a total output of about 3800 barrels a day. The Standard has about 18,000 barrels a day, and is the only producer to exceed the Superior Oil Company at Huntington Beach.

Production at Huntington Beach is about 5,000 barrels a day, with practically no drilling in the original area of the field, although there are thirty wells drilling in the eastern extension.

May be in Seaside
Operators interested in the Seal Beach district as a whole are giving considerable attention to the San Gabriel No. 13 well, which the Standard Oil Company is drilling in the delectable territory, northwest of the original field, and southeast of the town-plot area. The well is drilling at about 500 feet, and although it is about 800 or 600 feet deeper than the level at which the Western zone, deepest producing formation at Alamo Heights, is found, the well has not had any showings of commercial importance.

The question of whether Alamo Heights and Seal Beach are directly connected or not has been a subject of considerable discussion among geologists from the day the Doherty interests first brought in the Naples No. 1. Apparently the negative has the best of the argument with the present evidence, which seems to indicate that there is a barrier strip between the two producing areas. Incidentally San Gabriel No. 13 is the deepest well in either of the two areas.

Two New Wells
The Union Oil Company has brought in two new producing wells in the Fullerton district, according to officials of the company. One of the wells is in the Brea-Clinda field, and the other in the Brea-Clinda field.

At Brea-Clinda the Stearns No. 40 was brought in at a depth of 4900 feet, making about 500 barrels a day of clean oil testing 26 deg. gravity. At Richfield, the York-Linda Group No. 14 was placed on production at 2550 feet, making about 235 barrels a day.

The Union Oil Company expects to have its Stern No. 10 well in the Richfield district on production within the next week or two. The well is down 4657 feet, and is being drilled for a production test.

Showings Continue
The Elbe Oil and Development Company continues to get encouraging showings in its Elbe No. 6 well in the Round Mountain field, according to field reports. The well is down about 2700 feet, and while nothing worth a test has been picked up since drilling was resumed, general indications favor the hope that a prolific zone may be found below 3000 feet, it is said.

The Elbe has several construction crews at work in the Round Mountain district, building roads so that various portions of the 1000-acre property can be reached by truck. The Elbe program involves about half a dozen wells to be drilled as soon as the derricks can be put up, and machinery moved in to do the work.

Well Holds Up
The Petroleum Securities Company's new gusher well in the southern end of the Ventura-avenue field, on the Orton lease, is holding up in its initial production in good shape, the output yesterday ranging around 2300 barrels, according to unofficial reports. This is the most successful well drilled by the Doherty interests on the Orton or Willet lease, and makes the southern flank of the field look considerably more promising. The Shell company is offsetting the well.

HONEYMOON IN PRIVATE CAR

Veteran Rail Builder of Northwest and Bride Go East After Visit With Relatives Here

Following a one-day visit to relatives and friends in this city Robert E. Strahorn, veteran railroad builder of the Northwest, left last night for New York in his private car with his bride of one day, Miss Ruby Garland of San Francisco. They were married in the Hotel St. Francis at San Francisco on Wednesday night. After a stay of several weeks in New York they will leave on an eighteen-month tour of the world.

Mr. Strahorn, backed by the late E. H. Harriman, engaged in a titanic struggle with James J. Hill to gain railroad superiority in the Northwest. He is credited with building and maintaining the largest and most important cities in Washington and Oregon.

During recent years Mr. Strahorn, who has made his home in Spokane, became so fascinated with the work of the railroad builders that he deserted his profession to become one of the nation's foremost railroad engineers.

Mr. Strahorn's bride for the past several years has engaged in the interior decorating business in San Francisco. During the World War she was called to Washington to accept a government position and later toured the Orient for the government.

While here Mr. and Mrs. Strahorn visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Eastman in Glendale. Mrs. Eastman is Mr. Strahorn's cousin. Other relatives present at the home were Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Kelsey of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Kelsey of Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey and Mr. and Mrs. Dilworth were dinner guests on Mr. Strahorn's private car last night and rode with the bride and groom as far as Ontario.

The car, which is being taken east over the Southern Pacific route, contains many baskets of flowers sent by friends here and in San Francisco. This is Mr. Strahorn's second marriage.

UNIONS TO PUSH DETROIT DRIVE

Federation Goes on Record in Auto Industry Move

Thorough Organization Aim Set Forth at Convention

Week's Meetings Conclude; Sessions Reopen Monday

The American Federation of Labor formally went on record at its convention session here yesterday as determined to continue its efforts to unionize the automobile industry of America "until it is thoroughly organized." The action came when the organization's committee reported on the movement, started a year ago at Detroit, and recommended a determined continuance of the undertaking. The committee said it is not in a position to give details of progress being made, but merely stated that the situation "is being given the best attention."

The convention began acting on committee reports yesterday one of the first being an action protesting against a proposal of the British Embassy in Washington to erect a building with workmen who are not members of the union. Sessions for the first time continued throughout the day. With the end of today's meeting non-unionists will be until Monday.

An amendment to the federation constitution for the asserted purpose of keeping "undesirables" out of delegate seats was put through yesterday. It provides that delegates may be sent only by the units with which they are directly connected instead of going to any unit of organization and getting delegate credentials. It is declared that in times past certain undesirable persons have been able to win delegation by their own units without through screening. Get some other unit to delegate them.

COLORED WORKER POLICY A movement to have all unions recognize and receive negro workers on a par with white workers failed and the federation reaffirmed its old policy of providing special organizations for colored workers. Where unions draw the color line.

The convention voted for extension of special help from the federation for unionization of textile workers in the South, laundry workers throughout the country, hotel and restaurant workers everywhere, workers in Porto Rico and miners and smelter workers in Canada.

A move toward ending a dispute between the International Association of Machinists and Amalgamated Association of Street and Electrical Railway Employees was taken through a compromise of a committee to deal with the differences. The committee is to be named by presidents of the two bodies and to meet at Washington November 7, next.

Secretary Stephen Miller of the Workers' Education Bureau addressed the convention in the afternoon on how the bureau can best be used in the collection of statistical information for union purposes and how it is included in the work of the minds of workers, especially the young workers. He said unionists should be building up a strong industry and of the railroad industry will be published this fall.

A plea for reformation support was made to the delegates by George H. Barnes, chairman of the board of governors of the Green Cross.

COMMUNISM ASSAILED In the forenoon session, President Green made a rousing speech against Communism.

The American Federation of Labor will accept no dictation from Moscow," Green said. "We will not compromise with Communism or Communistic philosophy. Ours is a trades union movement on principles that have been tried and we're not going to listen to any siren call to experiment with theories born of class hatred in countries where dictators rule."

John P. Frey, a vice-president, gave an exposition of the federation's wage policy laid down two years ago at the Atlantic City convention and reported that much information is being accumulated on which to base further action toward higher wages.

It was the old theory, he explained, to base wage increase demands on the cost of living. To this was added the new basis of a share in the production of the worker.

The worker's wage must keep pace with his power to produce," Frey said. "The working man in industry now is producing 80 per cent more a day than he did in 1900, but the real wage paid to him has increased only approximately 8 per cent."

SID BUSH HELD AS VAGRANT

Accused Red Agent Taken at Union Labor Convention Detained as Green Makes Statement

Sid Bush, arrested yesterday as a Communist agent sent here to bore into the ranks of the American Federation of Labor, was charged with vagrancy in a complaint issued yesterday at the City Prosecutor's office.

At the same time, detectives of the police intelligence bureau announced that a further check of Bush's activities is under way and that additional agents will be assigned to watch him to act as propagandists among delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention, which is being held here.

OTHERS BEING WATCHED Several other men, also believed to be agents of the Communist Workers' party, are under surveillance, according to Detective Lieutenant Ryan of the intelligence bureau, and two or three places where great masses of people are gathered, such as the store for distribution among delegates to the convention also are being watched.

HARRISLER EXPLAINS Harrisler explained that he came to him, as have scores of union-leaders and others, for information. It is the custom of union-leaders to come to the federation.

FIRE BURNS ON AS LETTERS FLY

Branches of the city government continued to pass letters around from one department to another yesterday, each telling the other department to extinguish the twelve-acre peat bed fire at Hauser Boulevard and Jefferson street in the West Adams district adjacent to the Baldwin Hills. The fire has been burning for several years and is spreading. Residents of the district long have complained that the odor from the fire is injurious to health and is a nuisance. The Health Commission yesterday joined in the letter-writing campaign to put out the fire by formally declaring that the fire is a health menace and directing City Engineer Shaw to "proceed immediately to handle this work in such a manner as you see fit." The commission said the Baldwin estate, owners of the land, has made no serious attempt to extinguish the fire. As the burning peat beds are thirty feet underground, the expense of extinguishing the fire is estimated at $30,000.

So that Mrs. Eva Madge Jorgensen may keep on with her work of compiling a biography of Death Valley Scotty, pending trial of her divorce litigation with her husband, Hans H. Jorgensen, Judge Scott in alimony court yesterday made an order that their children shall remain in a Long Beach sanatorium.

It was shown at the hearing on the question of custody that Mrs. Jorgensen will have to do much of her writing in Death Valley. In her husband's estate, the charges that her husband caused her mental anguish.

NEW APPOINTEE TO SUPERIOR BENCH

Involuntary Action Filed by Five Creditors

Preference Declared Given in Certain Cases

Temporary Receiver Asked of Federal Court

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday in United States District Court against Waterston Brothers, Inc., of Inyo county, of which Mark Q. and W. W. Waterston are the chief executive officers. The complaint asserts that the two Waterston brothers "have concealed and refused to disclose the present whereabouts of a large amount of assets."

The filing of the petition was made by attorneys representing five creditors. They are George C. Kinney, $7000; Thomas Thomson, Sr., $20,000; Emma Richards, $8000; Mrs. Thomas Thomson, Sr., $5000 and Mrs. Katherine Francisco, $4000.

The complaint charges that preference has been given certain creditors while Waterston Brothers was and still is insolvent. In an action now pending before Federal Court, a large number of creditors headed by the Utah Fuel Company, request the appointment of a receiver to take possession of the Waterston company in bankruptcy. The petition of the five creditors filed yesterday asserts that the company is bankrupt and should be so adjudged.

An application for the appointment of a temporary receiver was made by Mrs. Francisco in a separate petition. The names of G. F. Chisholm of Los Angeles was suggested by Mrs. Francisco as receiver. The purpose of a temporary receiver would be to take possession of the hardware store and garage operated by the Waterstons at Bishop until a Federal trustee in bankruptcy can take hold.

The petition for involuntary bankruptcy was filed by Attorney A. H. Brody.

McCormick to Lose Tonsils

John McCormick, motion-picture producer and husband of Colleen Moore, actress, will undergo an operation at the Hollywood Hospital to have his tonsils removed.

The tonsils were removed by Dr. Elias Lewis, McCormick's physician.

McCormick produced a picture of Miss Moore's pictures for some time.

A plan for reformation support was made to the delegates by George H. Barnes, chairman of the board of governors of the Green Cross.

COMMUNISM ASSAILED In the forenoon session, President Green made a rousing speech against Communism.

The American Federation of Labor will accept no dictation from Moscow," Green said. "We will not compromise with Communism or Communistic philosophy. Ours is a trades union movement on principles that have been tried and we're not going to listen to any siren call to experiment with theories born of class hatred in countries where dictators rule."

John P. Frey, a vice-president, gave an exposition of the federation's wage policy laid down two years ago at the Atlantic City convention and reported that much information is being accumulated on which to base further action toward higher wages.

It was the old theory, he explained, to base wage increase demands on the cost of living. To this was added the new basis of a share in the production of the worker.

The worker's wage must keep pace with his power to produce," Frey said. "The working man in industry now is producing 80 per cent more a day than he did in 1900, but the real wage paid to him has increased only approximately 8 per cent."

SID BUSH HELD AS VAGRANT

Accused Red Agent Taken at Union Labor Convention Detained as Green Makes Statement

Sid Bush, arrested yesterday as a Communist agent sent here to bore into the ranks of the American Federation of Labor, was charged with vagrancy in a complaint issued yesterday at the City Prosecutor's office.

At the same time, detectives of the police intelligence bureau announced that a further check of Bush's activities is under way and that additional agents will be assigned to watch him to act as propagandists among delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention, which is being held here.

OTHERS BEING WATCHED Several other men, also believed to be agents of the Communist Workers' party, are under surveillance, according to Detective Lieutenant Ryan of the intelligence bureau, and two or three places where great masses of people are gathered, such as the store for distribution among delegates to the convention also are being watched.

HARRISLER EXPLAINS Harrisler explained that he came to him, as have scores of union-leaders and others, for information. It is the custom of union-leaders to come to the federation.

FIRE BURNS ON AS LETTERS FLY

Branches of the city government continued to pass letters around from one department to another yesterday, each telling the other department to extinguish the twelve-acre peat bed fire at Hauser Boulevard and Jefferson street in the West Adams district adjacent to the Baldwin Hills. The fire has been burning for several years and is spreading. Residents of the district long have complained that the odor from the fire is injurious to health and is a nuisance. The Health Commission yesterday joined in the letter-writing campaign to put out the fire by formally declaring that the fire is a health menace and directing City Engineer Shaw to "proceed immediately to handle this work in such a manner as you see fit." The commission said the Baldwin estate, owners of the land, has made no serious attempt to extinguish the fire. As the burning peat beds are thirty feet underground, the expense of extinguishing the fire is estimated at $30,000.

Drastic Action Taken by Police to Put Down Wave of Crime

TWELVE-HOUR SHIFTS BEGUN

Jewelry Valued at $25,000 Taken by Bandits

Gunman Forces Way Into Salesman's Car

Score of Hold-ups and Burglaries in Day

(Illustration on Picture Page)
With a $25,000 jewelry robbery, a half-dozen small hold-ups, and a score of burglaries reported in Los Angeles during the last twenty-four hours, the entire police department last night was placed on a twelve-hour day shift to combat the fight against crime.

An additional measure, Chief of Detective Charles H. Egan, said he is preparing an appeal to insurance companies which protect clients against loss by robbery or burglary, to increase the stringency of their regulations and insure their agents against taking unnecessary risks.

The toll of loss taken in Los Angeles in the last twenty-four hours was estimated to amount to approximately $40,000 in value. This included a sensational daylight jewelry robbery involving $25,000, a $10,000 burglary, almost a score of petty burglaries, and several petty hold-ups.

Walter Egan, a member of the jewelry firm of Higgins & Dorner with offices in the Title Guaranty Building, was a victim of a high right hand who stepped on the running board of his automobile at Seventh street and Westlake avenue at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

STEPS ABOARD AUTO
Dorner had just left the office of a small jewelry store at Seventh and Alvarado streets when he was stopped. He entered his car and was ready to pull away from the curb when a man came running toward him and tapped on the glass of the coupe with a heavy automatic demanding admittance.

"I tried to attract the attention of a pedestrian who was coming across the street," the man said, "but the man didn't see me. Finally I opened the door when the hand was thrust over the top of the coupe and I was thrown out."

After the bandit entered the car, Dorner said, he threw a gun against his side and ordered him to drive north on Westlake avenue. He placed a brief case over his shoulder and drove away.

OTHER BURGLARIES
In addition to this burglary, numerous smaller ones were reported. A police officer at 401 E. Tenth street, reported the loss of $1000 worth of clothing to a house burglar.

C. L. Wolf, 701 South New Hampshire street, told police that a party burglar had taken clothing valued at more than $700 from his apartment during the night.

Four and a half dozen burglaries were reported in the city during the last twenty-four hours. A burglary at 401 E. Tenth street, reported the loss of $1000 worth of clothing to a house burglar.

Mrs. Anna Sappho, 854 Terrill avenue, reported to police that a party burglar had taken clothing valued at more than $700 from her apartment during the night.

DECREE WON CONVICTED ON CHARGE OF DRINKING ROBBER ON TRIAL AGAIN

Wife of Frank Keenan, Veteran Actor, Supported by Maid in Divorce Suit

Whatever the shortcomings of Frank Keenan, veteran actor, as a husband, his wife's maid says, he was a mighty good customer of his bootlegger.

Mrs. Margaret White Keenan, with her attorney, F. B. Mullendore, appeared in Judge Spruell's court yesterday to get a divorce. She brought her maid along with her to corroborate her charges that Keenan drank to excess.

"Judge, he's got his Scotch bottles at a time," she testified. "That doesn't mean anything unless you say how long three bottles would last him." Judge Spruell objected.

"Well, Judge, in a pinch he could keep it over a day and a half," the maid responded.

Besides accusing Keenan of excessive intoxication, Mrs. Keenan complained that he had persuaded her to abandon a profitable career as a model to marry him, upon a promise to settle valuable properties upon her, and then after she had married him, he refused to settle.

Attorney Mullendore informed Judge Spruell that a property settlement had been effected, and a decree of divorce was granted.

MARKETS IN CITY FOUND TO BE CLEAN

Louisiana Health Official Impressed by Sanitary Methods Used

The public markets in Los Angeles are among the most sanitary in the United States, according to Dr. Oscar Dowling, president of the Louisiana Tuberculosis Commission and chief officer of the Louisiana State Health Board, who is a guest at the Biltmore.

He expressed this opinion yesterday after visiting various markets and milk stations with City Health Officer Parrish, whom he met during the day. He also saw much interest in the tuberculosis prevention and maternity work carried on by your health department, and as a result of his visit, he is very much impressed by the methods in use here in the cities of my own State.

Dynamite in Oil Reservoir Opens Inquiry

A cache of fifteen sticks of dynamite, found floating on the surface of an abandoned oil tank reservoir at 701 College street, near the French Hospital, started a police investigation last night to uncover a possible dynamiting plot.

The sticks, which were packed in a bundle, evidently had been secured to the sides of the tank and had broken loose and been set adrift on the oil. A group of small boys playing near the tank, discovered the peculiar looking bundle and called the attention of the French Hospital division for analysis and when it was found to be dynamite, a squad was dispatched to bring in the rest of the cache and start an investigation.

DAVIS WILL GO NORTH TODAY

Secretary Ends Busy Five Days' Visit Here

Large Class Inducted Into Order of Moose

Helps Break Ground for New Studio Unit

Quitting five days of business and social activity, Secretary of Labor Davis will leave Los Angeles this evening on the Sunset Limited for San Jose, San Francisco and the East.

Secretary Davis during his visit has addressed the American Federation of Labor; spoken over the Times radio KHX; initiated a large class in the Loyal Order of Moose, of which he is director general; been entertained by the local shrine and aided in a ground-breaking event at one of the Hollywood studio lots.

Secretary Davis was particularly busy yesterday. The morning was spent largely in driving a four-mule team, attached to a plow, over a half-mile of studio lot, which will be the new Hollywood $25,000,000 studio center. Upon this occasion he was accompanied by the American Federation of Labor, prominent in the Moose circles, and Rex B. Goodell, former collector of internal revenue.

UNUSUAL PROGRAM

As a guest of Al Malachuk Shrine, Secretary Davis attended an unusual program at luncheon at the Biltmore at noon. Fred Schirmer presented a paper on the subject of the pay envelope and the assembled nobles ever have listened to a trio including harp, piano and dance.

While visiting the Paramount studio in Hollywood, Secretary Davis held a meeting for the children of the 1300 workers on the lot, a school building for the children that are employed at the studio, a club room and gymnasium and a new building for a restaurant.

Voluntarily he helped drive a spike into the new building. He said: "When I get back to Washington I can say that I worked in a studio."

CONDUCTS MOOSE CLASS

He was received by Milton E. Hoff, secretary of the local lodge, and a producer. The making of pictures did not seem to interest the secretary, who was interested in the conditions for the workingman.

The afternoon was given over to the reception of local contingents from San Diego and other points in Southern California where this fraternal organization has a strong following. During the evening he inducted into the Loyal Order of Moose the new class of members, which numbered between 400 and 500 at the clubhouse of Greater Los Angeles Lodge No. 1234, 800 Broadway.

Alfred Pannilo, Canadian Trades Council delegate, told the convention of unionism in Canada. President Green commended to unionists a pamphlet against the United States Shipping Board issued by the seamen's union.

WOMEN DELEGATES TO ATTEND LEAGUE LUNCHEON

"Problems in Industry" will be the topic of the Women's Athletic Club garden dining-room next Tuesday at 12:30 p.m., when the delegates to the convention of the Federation of Labor will be present.

Miss Sarah Conboy of the International Ladies Aid Society, Mrs. Belle Hayes Cooley of the California Industrial Welfare Commission and Mrs. Daisy M. Houck will be among the speakers. Miss Anna Peterson, the league's chairman of women in industry, will be in charge of the program.

His full statement read: "The Federated Press is a co-operative news-gathering agency of seventy or more labor papers in the United States, Canada and Great Britain. It is incorporated in 1919 and serves every group in the labor movement. Among its members are well-known conservative labor journals without the least taint of radicalism, as well as Farmer-Labor, Socialist, I.W.O., Communist, and independent union publications.

The chairman of the executive board is the editor of the Minnesota Union Advocate, which is the official organ of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor. The managing editor is a member of the Chicago Typographical Union, No. 16, which is the local union of Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor.

The managing editor belongs to no other organization, fraternal, labor, or political. "It is the custom of labor bodies to come to the Federated Press to get the latest news of the labor movement, on account of the wide acquaintance of the Federated Press with labor officials and because its nonpartisan labor character makes it the natural source of news to persons from the various labor groups."

GREEN GIVES REVIEW OF FEDERATION

Chief Says Union Labor Organization Protector of National Institutions

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, addressing the City Club yesterday declared that "the federation is a part of our institutional life and of our great citizenship and is the only organization of labor in the world that stands relentlessly and unflinchingly for the maintenance of the American form of government and the protection of American institutions."

"The cause of labor lies close to the hearts of men," said Mr. Green. "Some find fault with our organization and its methods, but these methods represent the best judgment of those who have been our guides and our inspirations and ideals. With all its faults and weaknesses, it is the best that can be done and that it is helpful to labor."

Stating that in other parts of the world "labor now is at the throat of government," Mr. Green said the American Federation of Labor opposes all organizations in America that propose to destroy the American form of government.

"We United States District Judges Hanning, prominent in the labor circles, and Rex B. Goodell, former collector of internal revenue, said the federation is the only organization of labor in the world that stands relentlessly and unflinchingly for the maintenance of the American form of government and the protection of American institutions."

SLEEP WOMAN'S NURSE ACCUSED

Charged With Operation of Hospital Sans Permit

Plea of Not Guilty Entered and Hearing Set

Mrs. Drummond Reported Well on Way to Recovery

Schools of the celebrated marathon sleep of Mrs. Clara Drummond, 31 years of age, of Fresno, whose 105-day slumber here aroused the interest of the nation, resounded in the corridors of the Hall of Justice yesterday when Mrs. Mattie S. Cunningham, operator of the hospital where the girl was confined, was charged with failing to obtain a permit for its establishment.

Appearing before Municipal Judge Baird, Mrs. Cunningham pleaded guilty to the charge, which accuses her specifically of "establishing, maintaining and conducting a hospital at 1387 Valencia street for reception, care and treatment of patients without obtaining a permit from the City Health Commission."

The defendant demanded a jury trial and Judge Baird ordered her released on her own recognizance pending the hearing, set for the 13th inst. in Municipal Judge Baird's court.

When Mrs. Drummond was brought to this city from Fresno, suffering a malady of sleeping sickness, Dr. W. J. Peacock, chiropractor, who assumed charge of the case, confined her to the Cunningham Hospital. Health authorities said the hospital does not conform to requirements of the city ordinance and for this reason they refuse to sign a permit.

Mrs. Drummond yesterday was reported by Dr. Peacock to be doing nicely and improving as well as could be expected. She now is awake, he said, and is expected to be completely well soon.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

An original song composition titled "Bring Your Brothers to the Priar," rendered by Harry Judson, master of ceremonies, is furnishing merriment for the throngs visiting the Priar's Club, Los Angeles' newest cafe and supper rendezvous, at 216 North Western avenue.

The rollicking number is introduced on a novel program in line with a policy just instituted by Ward McFadden, well-known restaurateur, to provide rollicking entertainment from the dinner hour until 1 a.m. of a livelier nature than the usual cabaret programs, together with dancing until 1 o'clock nightly.

With radio, stage and screen artists assembling for early breakfasts, McFadden has made provision to seat 700 guests at one time and an special southern style breakfast menu, arranged with no cover charge, is served.

CAPACITY CROWDS

Capacity crowds are enjoying the new venue at Antone's Cafe Diablo, 6728 Hollywood Boulevard, during "season end-of-week" following the gala fall opening recently.

Vernon, the novelty dance sensation of New York and London, who recently returned from a European musical comedy tour, heads the bill in "Cabaret Bernier," which also includes Florine Shipley, Wendell Conklin, better known as "Lulu and His Uke," Charlie Watts and Audrey Simonton. A new Cafe Diablo orchestra is now playing.

The management served luncheon in the cafe for the first time last Monday, and the crowd surpassed expectations. There is dancing every noon to the local orchestra.

Tonight will be the first of a series of university nights at Antone's Cafe Diablo, and will be featured by a dancing contest, with a silver loving cup to be presented to the winning couple.

DOUBLE BILL FEATURE

A double bill, featuring Mildred Washington and her Creole Outlets in "Alone," and Mary Richards, premiere danseuse, with a host of other entertainers, now is being staged in the new Cafe Diablo.

Clever southern melodies and dances by the entertainment cast are capturing the hearts of cafe guests.

Four shows are given nightly, at 9:30, 10:30 and 12 p.m., with a special after-theater revue at 1:30 a.m.

ACTION AT HOSTESS

The weekly collegiate, fete and dancing contest to be held in the Moulin Rouge Cafe, 1207 West Sixth street, this evening, will be honored by the presence of Ann McKay, a noted stage celebrity, who will act as hostess and present the dancing contest trophy to the winning couple.

Ann McKay has played leading roles at various times in the Morocco Theater and appeared a few months ago in "Applesauce" at the Span Theater.

COLLEGIATE NIGHT

A real college spirit will prevail in Brandt's Hollywood Montmartre Cafe this evening when collegiate night is celebrated.

Jack Farrell and his new collegiate orchestra, each member of which is a college graduate, will stage "A Night on the Campus," a burlesque in music of a freshman's first few weeks on a college campus.

The cafe will be decorated with college pennants with a part of the college transformed into a miniature replica of the University of California campus.

SCHON OF ROYALTY

The Abel Restaurant management of Mexico City has carried the same facilities service and high food quality of its original establishment into its new cafe at 7001 Hollywood Boulevard.

The chef of Abel's Restaurant is a direct descendant of a trusted officer of the King of Spain and the recipes he uses have been handed down through the family for over a century.

EUROPEAN CHEF

French and Italian cooking is featured in the Europa Cafe, located at Seventh street and Vermont avenue.

The chef of the Europa was for many years in charge of one of the largest hotel culinary departments in Europe and has many original recipes which have met with great favor among patrons of that cafe.

SOCIABILITY RESULTS IN LIQUOR RAID

Maj. Hammond Faces Rum Charge Because Employee Offered Friend Drink

His nurse's hospitality in offering a drink to her friend Thursday night while he and his wife were attending a show staged in Maj. Claude Hammond, independent film producer, being arrested on a charge of possessing liquor, it was revealed yesterday in Municipal Court.

While Hammond was absent L. S. Polkinton visited Miss Betty Miller, the Hammond nurse, who offered him a glass of wine. Then Policemen Greenhill, Brown, Jordan and Friend raided the place and arrested Miss Miller and Miss Alice Pease, a waitress.

Maj. Hammond appeared during the raid and admitted ownership of the liquor.

The trio of defendants pleaded not guilty to the charges and demanded a jury trial, which was set for November 4.

PATIENT CAT HELPS WIFE GET DIVORCE

Pianist Declares Husband Nearly Wore Out Pussy's Back by Scratching It

At just about the same time John Pierpont Martin wore out the hair of the cat's back, he also wore out the patience of his wife, Frances M. Martin, according to the tale related yesterday in Judge Gates' court, where Mrs. Martin obtained a divorce.

"Tell the judge about the cat," urged Charles B. Haselhurst, Mrs. Martin's attorney. "Well, Mr. Martin spent all of his time doing two things," she said. "He would start out the day working cross-word puzzles. He got pretty good at this eventually and would be all cleaned up with his crossword work by noon. The afternoon he would spend sitting in the shade scratching the cat's back. He practically wore the cat out. This, of course, was not remunerative employment and but for my own industry I doubtless would have starved."

Mrs. Martin is well known as a concert pianist under the name of Frances May Maddux. She charged Martin with cruelty and neglect. The couple married in 1924 and separated last April.

Judges Rule That Frost Actually Was Robbed of Alcohol Supply

Elmer E. Frost and the Elmer E. Frost Warehouse Company were deposited by robbers of several thousand gallons of "rubbing alcohol," and the robbers, so to speak, robbed in good faith, in the opinion of two judges of the Superior Court, according to orders for judgments handed down by both in submitted cases.

The question of the "validity" of the robbery was raised in suits brought by E. E. Bennett and M. M. Pink against Frost and his associates. Both recited that they had contracted for the purchase of large quantities of denatured alcohol from the defendants, but that when they demanded delivery they were told the alcohol had been stolen.

In view of the fact that at the time the alcohol market had become unusually brisk and prices had soared, the complainants attacked the robbery explanation and charged that it was a fake. But Judge John L. Fleming, in the Pink case, and Judge Franklin A. Griffin, in the Bennett case, found for the defendants.

Judge Schauer, who is the youngest Superior Court judge, was graduated with the class of 1919 and was appointed to the bench August 3, last. Judge Bogue was graduated in 1917.

TWICE-TIED KNOT FAILS AFTER TEST

Couple Who First Wed by Proxy Granted Severance; He Says Wife Was Cruel

Even a double marriage is not immune from the dissolving power of the divorce court, as is proved by an interlocutory decree to Kenneth Filer from Mary Olive Kelly Filer by Judge Sproul in the Superior Court. This romance had its inception in a novel marriage through the use of proxies and forged signatures when Filer, 19 years of age, and Mary Olive Kelly, 19 years of age, were married at Ontario on February 8, 1926, by Rev. John E. Roemer.

Following an expose of the artifice employed to obtain the marriage license through the offices of older friends or the contracting couple, they again journeyed to San Bernardino on March 4, obtained a valid license, revisited Mr. Roemer and were again made one.

The divorce complaint, filed two months ago by Attorney John B. Haas, sets forth the fact that the young wife was cruel to her youthful spouse, her cruelty manifesting itself in her pulling his hair, nagging and swearing at him. There is a 4-month-old child and at the time the complaint was filed it was in the custody of Filer's mother.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin trimmed in duchesse and chas-tity lace, the veil of tulle caught to her head by orange blossoms, and she carried an arm shower of bride's roses, orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Evelyn Adey Miller assisted her sister as maid of honor, while the other attendants included Mrs. Addison E. Wells, Mrs. John Trenchard, Miss Alice Harvot, Miss Olga Nelson and Miss Helen MacPherson, while dainty Muriel Heron was flower girl, Virginia Adelaide Davis train bearer and Wilbur Tandy carried the ring.

The attendants were all frocked alike in satin and tulle, the pastel shades of pink, blue, lavender, orchid yellow and apricot, their bouquets being of sweet peas to match their gowns, while the flower girl was in pink organdie, the train bearers in blue tulle and the ring bearer in white satin suit.

After their return from the ceremony, Mrs. Bellard was the guest of Mrs. Bellard, who were a black velvet gown. After their return from the ceremony, Mrs. Bellard was the guest of Mrs. Bellard, who were a black velvet gown.

Soap Sculptures Furnish Fun at Clean Party

By Florence L. Gank

When the Pages arrived at the Rose Room of the Marie Louise was used for the Thursday afternoon pastel tea given by Delta Zeta sorority at Southern California. Forty-five guests attended this lovely affair and they were all presented with flower favors. In the evening a collegiate supper was given at the chapter house, with Trojan rocker caps as favors.

Bringing rush week to a close, the traditional rose dinner of Delta Zeta was held Friday night at the chapter house for forty-five guests. A three-piece orchestra provided music and shades of rose were carried out in the menu as well as in the decorations and favors.

Then he brought out dozens of cakes of white soap of creamy tint and national reputation. With each bar he gave a carving knife. Each guest was to "sculpt" some immortal work of art from his cake of soap. It was great fun watching heads, animals, buildings and what not emerge from the plain soap.

The prizes were diminutive animals in porcelain and brass.

Some green vegetables should be included daily in the menu. There is no easier way to serve them than in salads. Send stamped addressed envelope care of this paper for Nancy Page's leaflet on "Salads."

"Rush" Affairs
Variety was the keynote in the rushing program of Delta Zeta sorority at the University of Southern California which was ushered in by an elaborate Chinese tea Sunday afternoon at the chapter house, 710 West Twenty-eighth street. Miss Mabel Russell, president of the sorority, assisted in receiving the guests, and Mrs. R. F. Terrell, new house mother, presided at the table with Mrs. Charles F. Crawford, patroness. Oriental blossoms were used as decorations and the pieces in Chinese costumes served tea and rice cakes to the guests.

A Mexican dinner in a color scheme of red and black, featuring Spanish solo dancing, was given for rushers at the Delta Zeta house at U.S.C. Monday evening and the circus motif prevailed at a tea and informal supper Tuesday. Pink lemonade, penicillin, pop-corn and "hot dogs" provided a realistic atmosphere, while merry-go-round, improvised airplane, tumbling clowns in the person of Miss Helen Hewitt and Miss Ruth Smith made the scene even more vivid.

Pseudo telegrams summoned rushers to a Bell Hop dinner at the sorority house Wednesday night, culminating the day's entertainment which included a Sunset Limited tea in the afternoon.

The Rose Room of the Marie Louise was used for the Thursday afternoon pastel tea given by Delta Zeta sorority at Southern California. Forty-five guests attended this lovely affair and they were all presented with flower favors. In the evening a collegiate supper was given at the chapter house, with Trojan rocker caps as favors.

Bringing rush week to a close, the traditional rose dinner of Delta Zeta was held Friday night at the chapter house for forty-five guests. A three-piece orchestra provided music and shades of rose were carried out in the menu as well as in the decorations and favors.

GROWN-UPS RESPONSIBLE FOR CHILDREN'S REACTIONS

Frances is 5 years of age and has been the undisputed queen of the family for those five years. Every move she makes is important and don't think she doesn't know it! The household revolves about her. She is petted and pampered and noticed.

Suddenly, without warning, the sun is obscured. A little brother arrives in the night and the next day the whole order of Frances' life is changed.

Father brings in Frances to view the wee stranger. Everyone coos and exclaims over him. Frances is told to run outdoors and play so as not to disturb mother and brother. When brother screams the family fly to him. When Frances hits her toe and shrieks with the pain Grandmother says, "oh-hi You'll be brother's help."

Not one word of sympathy, not even a kiss. When Frances finds herself for a moment alone in the room with the new brother she thinks it a good opportunity for revenging herself upon him. So she gives the red, wrinkled mite a good pinch.

Of course brother cries in terror and is soothed. Frances receives black looks from everyone and is told she is a wicked wicked girl to hurt her darling, helpless, little brother (any one who has accomplished so much doesn't seem helpless to her) and so she sulks and is ostracized by the family and grows to hate the brother more and more. The parents think her unnatural. Frances feels herself justified.

Of course we understand the adult viewpoint that children should love their sisters and brothers, but it is the parents' fault if they don't. Frances should have been taken into her mother's confidence and should have watched as eagerly for the arrival of the brother or sister as her mother. She should be made to feel that the baby belongs to her as well as the parents and have a joy and pride in this possession. And most of all Frances should not be forgotten in the excitement attendant on the baby's arrival. She is just as young as the day the baby arrived

In skin care is credited with saving schoolgirl complexion to thousands
By NORMA SHEARER

THE modern rule for beauty is a simple one: a proved complexion soap and water to keep the skin and pores clean; "make-up," powder and rouge thoroughly cleared from the skin every night before bed.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions use Palmolive Soap; touch their faces with no other. It's made of cosmetic oils. It is made for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy olive and palm oil lather into the skin.

LOS ANGELES MAN WRITES ON RUSSIA

University Professor Holds
Bolshevik Rule Can Live
Only by Compromise

Only by continuous compromise can the Bolsheviks hope to remain in power, in the opinion of Dr. Malbone W. Graham, Jr., of the political science faculty of the University of California at Los Angeles, whose latest book, "New Governments of Central Europe," has just come from the press.

Dr. Graham devoted nearly four years of study and research both in this country and abroad in assembling the material for his book. It serves as a companion volume to Dr. Graham's "New Governments of Central Europe," and discusses the breakdown of the Romanoff empire.

Both the present volume and the one dealing with the new nations of Central Europe form part of the American political science series, edited by Prof. E. S. Corwin of Princeton University.

Dr. Graham holds there is no prospect of a return by Russia to a monarchy of the old type. But he likewise maintains that the Bolsheviks of today can survive only by a continual compromise. Communism as a policy has already been definitely abandoned by the Bolsheviks, he stated, "under the bludgeoning of civil war and economic misfortune."

Jacobson Says He Will Handle His Own Defense

Councilman Jacobson, facing a second trial on a morals charge growing out of a vice raid on a Beale-street cottage August 5 last, when he was arrested with Mrs. Callie Grimes, announced yesterday he is planning to discontinue his attorneys and conduct his own defense when the trial comes up on the 25th inst.

Cold Defense Counsel Hilton, however, declared the Councilman's contemplated move was news to him, and that he has not been formally notified of his dismissal. W. V. Anderson and Leland Davis, associate defense attorneys, could not be located.

Jacobson said he is dissatisfied with the conduct of his defense recently before a jury which disagreed 7 to 8 after several hours' deliberation.

CHINESE TONGS MAY RENEW WAR

Police Alert as Bullets Kill Oriental

Death of Gee Ping Feared as Signal for Outbreak

Residents of Quarter Lock
Lips on Mystery

Police officers patrolling Chinatown last night were ordered to halt and question all suspicious characters wandering in the streets and alleys of the oriental quarter, following fears expressed at Central Station that another tong war is imminent because of the discovery of the bullet-riddled body of Gee Ping at 430 North Los Angeles street.

Gee Ping was about 30 years of age, and had been gambling heavily lately. On that premise police suspect that the dead man had aroused the anger of an opposing tong member and had paid with his life.

WARNED OF FEARS

After discovery of the body in a small room at the Los Angeles street address, the police were warned that another tong war may be impending. Only recently a truce was signed between two of the strongest tongs among the Chinese after death-splitting guns of the tong men had snuffed out a score or more lives up and down the Pacific Coast.

Close by Gee Ping's body a revolver was found. It was hurried to police headquarters, where the serial numbers were recorded and the weapon turned over to Sgt. Barlow, police fingerprint expert, for inspection.

Investigating officers discard the theory that the Chinaman might have taken his own life.

Detectives started a search throughout the Chinatown section to ascertain if Gee Ping had any enemies. Their inquiries failed to elicit any information other than he had a penchant for gambling.

ALL KEPT SILENT

Neighbors of the dead man are equally as close-mouthed. Attempts to question the orientals met with the shrug of the shoulders as the Chinese, one by one, disappeared behind the locked doors and barred windows of their tenements.

Detective Lieutenants Stevens and Miller ordered the body of Gee Ping taken to the County Morgue where an inquest will be held. No witnesses to the crime are known, the police said, and Chinatown has sealed its lips.

Sales Expert Will Give Talk for Rotarians

Knowledge of merchandising, correct classification of customers and personality, the three greatest assets of the salesman, will be discussed by Paul W. Ivey, marketing expert and lecturer on sales topics at North Western University.

The country's great retail business is the neck of the bottle, he says. "No matter how efficient the manufacturer, he cannot depend on the retailer with the ability to move the goods. People want better service in selling, more human service."

Dr. Ivey appears under the auspices of the Rotary Club of Los Angeles, for which he will conduct a series of lectures during the next week.

Trojan Seniors Will Appear in 'Adam and Eve'

"Adam and Eve" has been selected as the annual senior play of the University of Southern California, to be staged in Bovard Auditorium Friday evening, the 21st inst., according to announcement by Stanley J. Brown, student production manager.

The cast includes Ione Cowan as Eve, Herschel Bonham as Adam, Paul Cunningham as the English lord, Elizabeth A. Reade as Julia, Marjorie Stern, Webster Haynes, Ethel E. Rickford, Morris Stephen, Huelia Snow and Harold Elbert.

The four-year students are busy rehearsing for their last dramatic effort on the campus under the supervision of Ray McDonald of the school of speech, who is director of dramatic productions.

Pair Convicted of Robbery Face Years in Prison

Jack Frazier, asserted desperado and highwayman, yesterday was convicted in Judge Agnew's court of seven counts of first-degree robbery after a jury of seven women and five men had spent several hours in deliberation on his fate and that of his asserted co-partner in crime, Victor Hadley. Hadley was convicted of three counts of first-degree robbery.

Frazier faces a term of from forty-nine years to life, while the verdict against Hadley carries a maximum penalty of from twenty-one years to life. They will be sentenced next week. They were said to have made a specialty of holding up stores and restaurants.

Four Million to be Spent in Shoe Campaign

Shabby shoes and run-down heels will be held up to public scorn in a $4,000,000 advertising campaign through newspapers and other mediums, soon to be launched, with the objective of increasing the demand for men's footwear.

A. L. Gude, Los Angeles shoe merchant, announced yesterday that the Shoe Retailers' Association, is among the leaders in the campaign. Style and comfort will be stressed, as well as the need for more pairs of shoes a year. One million dollars will be expended every year for four years.

C. M. Pierce, 1741 Ivar avenue, Hollywood, will play host to 125 boys of McKinley Industrial School, Van Nuys, tomorrow afternoon, during their visit to the city.

Arrangements have been made for the showing of the exception of transportation, it was learned, two or three more automobiles being needed. It is expected that these will be offered before time for the party to start.

CHILD EXPERT DUCK HUNTER Eight-Year-Old Claims Championship

Mildred Gilbreath

EIGHT-year-old Mildred Gilbreath now claims the world's championship for duck hunters of her age. While hunters throughout Southern California went out for the opening and in many cases went home with small bags, Mildred came home with sixteen birds.

Her father operates the Gilbreath Duck Club at Waco and has trained his daughter with a gun since she was large enough to handle one. She uses a twenty-gauge pump gun and old-time hunters marvel at the accuracy of her shooting.

Her father explained that the ducks will be coming in more plentifully in a few days and it will be a common occurrence for Mildred to bag the lot. She also is an expert at shooting geese.

Vindication Won by Decimo Club

Justice Riegelmann of the New York Supreme Court yesterday vacated the temporary injunction against the National Decimo Club on the grounds that charges of fraud had not been sustained, according to a statement made by L. F. Jones, secretary of the Los Angeles club.

The Decimo Club, according to Mr. Jones, has 60,000 members in thirty-five cities throughout the country with 6000 in Los Angeles. The purpose of the organization, he stated, is to act on behalf of the clerical and professional man to aid him to self-perfection.

The club has an agreement with the Apaco Purchase and Sales Corporation, whereby its members are enabled to make various purchases at a saving of from 15 to 50 per cent. It was in this connection that the Attorney-General of New York brought suit against the national organization.

With the appeal for the minimum budget of $2,750,000, Maj. Michener is out-leading his colleagues for work in his division.

The everyday life of the employees of the telephone company and railroad companies of Los Angeles calls for a service to the public, and Michener and his colleagues will wholeheartedly support in the work of the Community Chest.

During his visit Fischer invited several manufacturers to come here to attend the formal opening of the 18th inst. of the new home of the Los Angeles Store Picture Company, of which he is president.

the best fermented tea comes from India

LACK, fermented India Tea, without doubt, the most stimulating and refreshing drink in the world. It's the fermentation that gives the kick! No tea that is not fermented can have the same wonderful stimulating properties as India Tea.

If you drink tea, be sure you drink India Tea or a blend containing India Tea. If you have not yet tasted tea, try a cup of India Tea.

We know that one cup will convince you of its refreshing and stimulating qualities.

The people of Great Britain drink on the average 6 cups of India Tea or a blend containing India Tea a day to one cup of any other kind. They have been tea drinkers all their lives, and experience has taught them which is the best tea.

How to make a perfect cup of Tea

Use India Tea or a blend containing India Tea, and make it in the correct way. Use an earthenware teapot, previously warmed. Put into it one teaspoonful of India Tea for each person. Be sure the water is poured into the teapot the moment it boils. Allow to stand for 5 minutes to infuse. Put a little milk or cream into each cup before serving the tea. It greatly improves the flavor. Then add sugar to taste. India Tea also makes the best iced tea.

Introduce your friends and your guests to Afternoon Tea. But be sure—in order to get the best results—to use

TURANDOT IS EYE-DAZZLING

Amazing Spectacular Effects in Puccini Work

Throng Thrills to General Impression

Applause for Principals and Production

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

"Turandot," Giacomo Puccini's spectacular impression of the China of legend and fancy, received its first production here under the auspices of the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association last evening, and the event was without argument one of the most dazzling in the history of this organization.

An eye-entrancing rhapsody of color, beauty and pageantry is this creation of one of the world's most favored composers, who left it as his heritage after his death.

"Turandot" is an oriental fantasy of strange and uncanny fascination. "Turandot"—the revelation of a curiously new and different Puccini. There are scarcely words to describe the first vision of this amazing creation of whimsical romance, sacrificial tragedy and opulent splendor. It takes one into virtually an uncharted realm, where pictorial glamour blends uncannily with music strangely atmospheric.

Perhaps this work does not suggest the sensuous charm the moodiness of a "Madam Butterfly." Perhaps there are pages of the score that do not rise above a certain inordinate dullness. Perhaps much of it seems oddly pastel-stained and other portions are potentially vigorous, but the total at least is compensating to the point of being overwhelming.

The throng at Shrine Auditorium, an alert and eager throng, betokened the thrill that the experience brought them. They lavished plaudits on the singers: Anna Rosella, Edmund Tokatyan and others, and Conductor Merola. And it may be safely concluded that the applause also indicated the dazzling influence of a magnificent setting, in which the color scheme was more variegated than a Chinese New Year celebration, that they viewed during the progress of the latter scene of the second act.

From the start virtually to the finish, "Turandot" is a show and a feast. Even a public accustomed to gazing at quite lavish picture prologues will find the magnitude of the bigger moments abundantly overwhelming. No less than 300 to 400 persons are on the stage in the second and final acts, and their raucous blends all those hues that make the outside of a package of fireworks writing out on the grand scale and in the gorgeous manner.

"Turandot" certainly is in its colorful spirit, while in the intricacies of its music are contained many suggestions of the Orient. It is written much closer to this Orient than "Madam Butterfly" and incidentally one can discern scarcely a number that would lend itself well to an independent solo.

In this respect "Turandot" may prove disappointing to many of the devotees of Puccini upon a second or third hearing. There is so much to see during the first that sometimes the music is well-nigh forgotten.

Whether the work has the true vitality to live on permanently might be a question. It is a particular aspect of reaction that it was the themes of "Turandot" and "The Fall Girl" that, persisted over two days ago, that persisted over anything that might occur to the mind from "Turandot." Perhaps fragmentary suggestion of a tune here and there, but that is all. The keen emotion of the earlier Puccini is missing, and we have in "Turandot" instead harmonic and thematic progressions that are in general evanescent.

The first act curiously enough is the strongest. There is an air of vigor here in the score, and the choruses are remarkable and in an entirely new vein for Puccini. One finds the second act less impressive, and the melody used to accompany the questions, although attractive, becomes eventually a rather vain repetition. There are few moments where the composer's heights are reached, although there are some where it is attempted and I am afraid that the audience got farther away from the heart than was his wont in his feeling.

All this is by the way for the moment, though. Everyone who wants to see "Turandot" once, and only once, I believe, merit even a second and third hearing. What appeals to the ear, though, lives far longer than what is seen in the world of opera, and that perhaps will spell the ultimate fate of this posthumous work of Puccini. It is all the qualities of a great and interesting experiment, and one wishes on this account that he could have followed the works that might have succeeded it. There is the sense that the composer was entering upon a new field in this opera.

Unfortunately, I must give belated recognition to those who took part in the performance, and praise was deserved in general, this being especially true of the chorus ensemble, and the production, for which I believe in full measure Giacomo Merola, as conductor and impresario, and Messrs. Agnini and Spadoni were responsible. It takes the place as their most elaborate and one of their most efficient presentations.

To Anne Roselle for her loveliness, the exquisite taste of her costume, and the charm of her voice as disclosed notably in the high tones, goes marked commendation. It was evident that the audience desired to applaud her vision in front of the curtain at the end of the second act, but she came forth accompanied by Puccini's birth, has been identified with oriental portrayals here on previous occasions, having appeared during a Scotti tour in "Ondine."

Armand Tokatyan has a tenor voice of very pleasing quality, and sang and acted the part of the Prince Calaf more than acceptably. His tone well as that of certain other singers did not always surmount the orchestral climaxes, but at times these were unusually happy. Miss Roselle's high tones, though, managed to ring out above everything in the first act, and gained with her tribute from her listeners. Her voice fell a little short of perfection in tonal quality in certain registers, but was very sympathetic as related to the tragic role of Liu, who sacrifices herself for the Prince's happiness.

Edo Pina, Millo Picco and Angelo Rada as the three fantastic characters, Ping, Pang and Pong, which sounds more like hitting the bulls-eye than like opera characters, initiated considerable applause for their efforts, even despite that one scene in which they take part is rather tedious. If quaint in character,

STAGE MARRIAGE IS "NICE," STAR SAYS

Recently a widow and now a married lady for over twenty-five years, it sounds impossible, but that's just what has happened to Frances Underwood. However, Miss Underwood was a widow in "Alma the Deacon," and now she is married in "The Home Towners," which is in its fourth week at the Hollywood Playhouse.

"The Home Towners," declared Miss Underwood, "but it's a whole lot more peaceful being a widow. When I played the role of the widow, my only worry was to get enough money to pay the mortgage on my hotel—but then every body was real nice to me."

In "The Home Towners," Mr. married to a stubborn old man, and we're continually wrangling. He loves me a great deal and wouldn't know what to do without me, but he's always arguing.

DIRECTOR REVEALS ABILITY ON STAGE

Gilmore Brown Acts in "Anthony and Anna," Ervine Comedy on Pasadena Boards

Basking in the warm glow from the footlights of the Pasadena Community Playhouse this week are members of that esteemed triumvirate known as the directors of the Community Theater's destinies.

None other than Gilmore Brown, director; Maurice Wells and Ralph Freud, associate, head the cast of the amusing, if somewhat talky comedy, "Anthony and Anna," by St. John Ervine, which is given presentation. It's decidedly worth while to see the play if only to observe Messrs. Brown, Wells and Freud, respectively, in action on that stage to which they have brought so many ambitious, aspiring and sometimes embarrassed members of the community.

"Anthony and Anna" is an amusing comedy based on a romance which develops in an unconventional way the life of St. Peter's Finger in England, between a charming young Britisher and an American heiress. It is rather a comedy of manners and if somewhat slow at moments is not so much so because of lack of delightful characterization by the respective members of the cast, but because St. John Ervine has not seen fit to endow the play with any particularly dramatic elements.

Although Helen Jerome Rady and Maurice Wells have the leads, give performances of poise and ability, the most enjoyable acting of the evening must be credited to Messrs. Brown and Freud. Brown, with a heavy woolen shawl wrapped about his best shoulders, portrays an indulgent dyspeptic millionaire father. Freud is George, the head waiter at the Inn of St. Peter's Finger, a delightful old fellow who sometimes dances on the ways of the moderns.

Rufus Spaulding is seen as the novelists Robert Griffin as an English business man and Meg Strohn as Lady Cynthia Speedwell.

RUBE WOLF PLAYS OWN COMPOSITION

If James is ever to be regarded as a serious contribution to the cause of music, it must progress. The limitations as well as its possibilities must be understood. When, as at the Metropolitan Theater this week, a band undertakes to improve on the original scoring of the "Misereere" from "The Trovatore," or, again, permits a harpist to wail out a typical "blues" solo on the delicate strings of his instrument, the blaspheinous results therefrom are neither true jazz nor true music, but hybrid effects parading of the nature of bolshies and are interesting and novel only in that they are freakish.

The popular Rube Wolf is featuring another of his own compositions, this one called "Roses of the Lane," at the Metropolitan. It is a waltz to which either Broadway or the Roberts sisters, returning here from Chicago, oblige with a couple of harmonized favorites, their shrill, wispy voices uncertainly penetrating the further recesses of the auditorium.

Traps are given to the stage presentation by the belated appearance of Jack Haley and Flo McPadden, with the best of their late vaudeville turn, "Haleyama," registering as strongly as ever.

An animated cartoon comedy, a short news film and the usual organ solo provide brief interludes.

Finishing a run in the Capitol Theater in New York, "The Gingham Girl," featuring Lois Wilson and George E. Arthur, will be shown the opening week at the Tower Theater at Eighth and Broadway. The premiere is set for Wednesday.

The Vitaphone prologue will be a continued feature at the new Tower Theater through special arrangement with Warner Brothers. Warner's Pennsylvania, who made a hit with a hit on their last fall here, will be headed over the Vitaphone at the Tower. The vaudeville team of Dan and Schenck will perform on the same program.

Urson Novelty Coming Here

Frank Urson's cinema nouveau, "Almost Human," is scheduled for early showing in Los Angeles, according to reports current at the Pacific Mills exchange here yesterday.

The Urson novelty, starring Vera Reynolds, the much-discussed film with three human and three canine characters, probably will be run at a downtown house within the next three weeks. Urson now is shooting "Chicago" with an all-star cast.

"TURANDOT" REVIEWED

Always giving inspiration to talented and serious young people in all fields of art, Miss Margaret Goetz has invited members and friends of the Three Arts Club (Vitaphone, started in Los Angeles six years ago) to attend her pictured opera review of Puccini's same Chinese opera, "Turandot," at 6:18 p.m. on Sunday. After the program several grand opera artists will be guests of honor.

HAS TWO LOCAL HITS

Robert N. Lee, whose first writing success was "Cameo Kirby," now showing at the Forum Theater, has made a score of hits since this picture. One of the greatest is "Underworld," now showing at the Rialto Theater, and acclaimed as one of the best pictures of the year. Lee has worked on "The Charlatan" for Universal.
